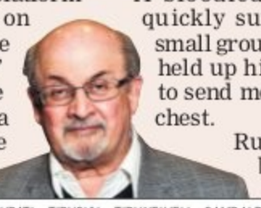
HORROR AS RUSHDIE STABBED IN THE NECK AT NEW YORK TALK SHOW

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

MUMBAI-BORN British author Salman Rushdie, whose writings had drawn death threats from Iran, was on Friday stabbed in the neck by an assailant just as he was about to speak at an event in western New York. The assailant got on to the stage at the Chautauqua Institution's event and stabbed him as he was being introduced to the gathering, a witness said. Rushdie fell to the floor and was treated on-stage before being airlifted to a hospital. Governor Kathy Hochul said he's alive and "getting the care he needs". Event moderator Henry Reese suffered some minor head injuries. The audience tackled the suspect after which he was taken into custody.

Reese and Rushdie were to discuss "the US as asylum for writers and other artists in exile and as a home for freedom of creative expression", when the attack happened around 8.30 pm IST.

"This guy ran on to platform and started pounding on Rushdie. At first you're like, 'What's going on?' And then it became abundantly clear in a few seconds that he was being beaten," said Rabbi Charles Savenor, who was in the audience.



A bloodied Rushdie was quickly surrounded by a small group of people who held up his legs, possibly to send more blood to his chest.

Rushdie's fourth book, in 1988, The Satanic Verses, forced him into hiding for nine years after Iran's Supreme Leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini issued a fatwa calling for his execution for the book's blasphemous content. Iran also offered a $3-million bounty to anyone who killed Rushdie.

The author's first brush with fame was when his 1981 novel Midnight's Children won the Booker Prize. But it was The Satanic Verses and the fatwa that made him really well known across the world. He later published a memoir, Joseph Anton, about life after the fatwa from a pseudonym he used while in hiding.

India-China ties are tense, situation may turn dangerous, says Jaishankar

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

INDIA-CHINA relationship is very "tense" and it could be a "dangerous situation" because of the border issue, said External Affairs Minister (EAM) Dr S Jaishankar in a media interaction in Bengaluru on Friday evening.

While fielding questions, he said the relationship between India and China "cannot be normal" under the present circumstances. "Despite 16 rounds of commander-level talks between us on the Chinese disengagement along the LAC in Eastern Ladakh, the issue remains unresolved. The Indian Army has been holding its ground for the past two winters, which shows our resolve on standing our ground. We have made some substantial progress in terms of the troops pulling back from places, where they were very close. There are still some places, where they have not," said the EAM.

He added that "India has consistently maintained its position that if China disturbed peace in the border areas it will impact on our bilateral relationship with them."

Regarding India's security concerns against the Chinese ballistic missile and satellite tracking ship 'Yuan Wang 5' against docking at the Hambantota Port in Sri Lanka, Jaishankar reiterated MEA spokesperson, Arindam Bagchi's views on the issue in which he said, "security concerns are the sovereign right of every country. We will make the best judgement in own interest."

On a question regarding China's Belt and Road Initiative (BRI), Jaishankar said, it violates our sovereignty and territorial integrity. "Our view on the BRI has been consistent and I don't need to vindicate my stand," he said. P2

Retail inflation falls below 7% for 1st time in 3 months

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

IN a relief to the common man as well as policy makers, retail inflation seems to have begun moderating as the headline inflation rate measured by the Consumer Price Index (CPI) eased to 6.71% in July from 7.01% in June. It is for the first time since April 2022 that retail inflation has fallen below the 7% level.

The lower figure in July was largely driven by the easing of prices of food and beverage, and miscellaneous items. While housing, pan, tobacco and intoxicant prices showed moderate growth, that of clothing and fuel continued to expand sharply year-on-year.

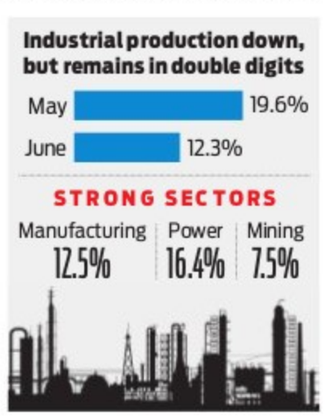
On a month-on-month basis, however, vegetable prices fell marginally as the food and beverages index remained flat, also benefiting from corrections in prices of edible oils, meat and fish.

The drop in inflation in July was on expected lines as fears of global recession and fresh geopolitical uncertainties led to a correction in global commodity prices, easing the domestic inflation pressure.

However, analysts and economists warn against letting the guards down on inflation. "CPI headline inflation for July has moderated in line with our expectations led largely by food inflation, while the core inflation remains elevated and sticky. The coming few readings are expected to be a tad above 7% with inflation likely to hover above RBIs upper threshold limit of 6% until January 2023," said Upasana Bhardwaj, chief economist, Kotak Mahindra Bank.

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) in its August monetary policy statement retained its inflation projection for 2022-23 at 6.7%. RBI is mindful of the fact that spillovers from geopolitical shocks are imparting considerable uncertainty to the inflation trajectory. The central bank also said that it is watchful of the shortfall in paddy sowing.

However, analysts believe that there would be no pause in rate hikes. Aditi Nayar, chief economist of ICRA, expects another increase of 10-35 bps in the September 2022 policy meeting.



GOING THROUGH THE ROOF

In just one month, tur dal price shot up by ₹5-22 while urad dal prices soared by as much as ₹10-44

STAPLE TUR, URAD DAL GO NORTH

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

MULTIPLE factors are at play in pushing inflationary trends that are in turn causing prices of commonly consumed tur and urad dal to rise upwards, much to the misery of the common man. Worse, these trends are set to continue due to the prevailing inflationary trends in the days to come. The price of tur dal has increased by about ₹15-20 per kilogram. In the retail, it was selling at ₹150-170 kg for the packed variant which attracts 5 per cent GST, while the loose variant was selling at ₹135-145 per kg which does not attract GST.

Wholesale market prices were about ₹120 per kg. This price hike has been gradual over the past three weeks and was capped after the GST was hiked. Urad dal has been soaring since it was imported and was selling in retail for about ₹160 per kg and wholesale at about ₹130 per kg also similarly over the past about three weeks.

Compounding this, power tariffs have gone up and monthly bills on an average in most middle-class households have increased by about ₹200 per month. The price of rice, which is the staple diet of people of the state has increased by about 8-10 per cent thanks to a variety of reasons, including 5 per cent GST on packed rice, while steamed rice which is used by commercial eateries has been about 8-10 per cent higher. RECRUITMENT

Priyank: Sexual favours, bribes sought from aspirants

ENS @ Kalaburagi

KPCC's communication wing head, Priyank Kharge on Friday urged the state government to constitute fast-track courts to try cases related to PSI-CET, KPTCL and PWD recruitment scams.

Speaking at a press conference here on Friday, Kharge made serious charges that youngsters these days do not get jobs without bribing and young women candidates are even asked for "sexual favours" by the authorities concerned.

He said CID has arrested many people including police higher-ups in the PSI-CET scam and has also filed chargesheets. There are reports of a similar scam in the recruitment to the posts of Assistant Engineers (AEs) and Junior Engineers (JEs) in KPTCL and PWD.

The former minister alleged that in recruitment for posts of AEs and JEs in KPTCL, authorities concerned have demanded Rs 30 lakh for the post of JE and Rs 50 lakh for AE's post.For speedy justice, fast-track courts are essential, he said. P4

Stuck for a week, 2 shepherds, sheep rescued from Koppal islet

SHREEPADA AYACHIT @ Koppal

IT was a harrowing time for a shepherd, his son, and over 100 sheep that were stuck on an islet for over a week near Gangavati in Koppal district as they were surrounded by roaring waters of the Tungabhadra river.

When a 16-member team of the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF), summoned from Vijayawada in Andhra Pradesh, finally pulled out Hanumappa and his son Hanumesh using boats, the feeling of gratitude was overwhelming for them. Their precious sheep and goats too were rescued by the team.

It was on August 4 that the shepherds from Mallapura village ventured onto the islet to graze their sheep. The waters rose fast and by evening, they were unable to cross the rapidly flowing river as the authorities had released 1.80 lakh cusecs from the Tungabhadra reservoir. The two shepherds made an SOS call from their mobile phone to the authorities, pleading for a rescue.

The district administration rushed the fire and emergency services personnel to the spot. But despite trying hard for over a week, the rescue workers could not reach the shepherds, who were under a makeshift shelter. District officials then contacted the National Disaster Response Force (NDRF), who at last rescued the shepherds and sheep on Friday, said Assistant Commissioner Basavennappa Kalashetty.

In fact, the district administration and Tungabhadra Project authorities have been cautioning people along the river basin not to venture into the river or proceed to nearby islets in Gangavati taluk.

KSPCB to make 10K clay, seed Ganesha idols

Fine arts students to help make green idols

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH Ganesha Chaturthi fast approaching, the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) says it will make 10,000 clay and seed idols to celebrate an eco-friendly festival. The KSPCB will join hands with Bengaluru Ganesh Utsav Organisation for this purpose.

KSPCB Chairman Shanth A Thimmaiah says the Board aims to enter the Guinness World Records. Thimmaiah told reporters here on Friday that due to Covid, KSPCB carried out an online campaign, and pitched for turmeric Ganeshas. This time, on August 28 at National College Grounds, arrangements will be made to ensure that 10,000 people make the idol on their own and carry it home for the festival."

He added that plant seeds will be added in the clay for eco-friendly idols. This apart, KSPCB will also monitor all lakes to curb pollution as devotees immerse idols. The ban on Ganeshas made of Plaster of Paris will be implemented strictly, Thimmaiah said.

A KSPCB circular states that Ganesha idols will be restricted to 5ft. Guidelines regarding loudspeakers and DJ sets will have to be followed, and speakers may be allowed between 6am and 10pm at a permissible decibel level.

Mysuru royal family scion Yadhuveer Wadiyar has been roped as KSPCB's ambassador, and will release videos and audios with the message on environment and eco-friendly Ganeshas.

Nandish Mariyanna from Bengaluru Ganesha Utsav said that about 1,000 fine arts students will be present to help the public make clay Ganeshas. Each participant will be given clay, water, seeds and a wood sheet to make idols on August 28. "The material would cost Rs 150 and it may come up to Rs 15 lakh. KSPCB is funding it partly, and the amount will be raised from friends and well-wishers," added Mariyanna.

Plastic ban: 150 tonnes seized

The KSPCB stated it has been cracking down on banned plastic since 2016, after the Central government direction on single-use plastic, and has seized 150 tonnes of plastic worth Rs 50 lakh.

1st time after Covid, BMRCL earns profit

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

THE surge in ridership in Metro trains over the last few months has helped the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) get back to operational profits, which was witnessed before Covid set in. It has registered a profit of over Rs 12 lakh in the first quarter of 2022-2023.

The unaudited financial results of BMRCL for the quarter ending June 30 of this financial year was presented and approved during its Board meeting on Thursday.

As per the balance sheet, the total revenue from operations stood at Rs 98.85 crore, while its costs were Rs 17.83 crore. "After deduction of overall expenses, the total profit stood at Rs 12 lakh," explained a top official. The total revenue from operations stood at Rs 70 crore in the previous January-March quarter, 2022.

The massive beating BMRCL took due to Covid can be gauged from the fact that it earned only Rs 193 crore from operations during the financial year ending March 2022, while overall expenses stood at Rs 221.64 crore. The big positive is the huge dip in interest amount that BMRCL was paying toward its loans. "The interest we paid during the quarter was Rs 17.83 crore, a considerable dip from the Rs 24.18 crore we paid the previous quarter. We have repaid bulk sums when possible," the official said.

AS Shankar, Executive Director, Operations and Maintenance, BMRCL, told TNIE, "The trains are getting crowded. We are averaging 4.7 lakh commuters per day and crossed 5 lakh ridership thrice on Saturdays. In the past, the ridership used to dip during weekends, but we are getting good patronage even on those days. In the next four months, we hope to touch a ridership of 5 lakh on many days. Our operational profit is only set to increase."

Presenting stats to show the ridership picking up month on month, another official said a total of 146 lakh commuters boarded trains in July which averaged 4.7 lakh per day. "In June, we had averaged 4.6 lakh riders per day, which translates to another 10,000 riders hopping on to Metro trains daily," he added.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

13TH August : It's Saturday, ruled by Saturn, and the Moon is in relationship with this key planet. So, what does this mean? Well, Saturn favours all people who work hard, do what they say they'll do, and follow the rules. If, on the other hand, you're one of those people who likes to let it all hang out, you may come unstuck!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
One powerful planetary aspect follows another. Right now there's an intense solar alignment coming up, so expect storms. The disruption in your energy pattern at such times always makes other people slightly erratic and you may have a great deal to put up with. Grin and bear it.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Your travel stars are still strong, so there's good luck in store if you are planning to get away. However, you may decide that you'd rather stay at home, after all! Can this be arranged? If so, please make sure that partners are happy with the new plans.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Jupiter's celestial patterns are truly delightful and, by rights, you ought to be celebrating your good fortune. However, those of you who are blind to your benefits and advantages may let a marvellous opportunity slip through your fingers. It's all a question of keeping a clear head.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
You should continue to take extra care when travelling and allow for delays. Lunar alignments are raising the prospect of mistakes and misunderstandings and advising you to check the small print. You're bound to feel you're doing more than your fair share, so try to get partners to take over.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Mercury's witty wanderings in your chart are maintained for a little while longer, and helping you to stay one step ahead of the field in terms of your ideas and proposals. However, I don't think you can escape today's general undercurrent of unreason.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Certainty alternates with uncertainty, and what takes place over the next few days will shake up your ideas. You may also be enabled to make up lost ground. A social engagement may be affected by what can only be described as mysterious or inexplicable developments.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Recent events may have made you aware that certain commitments and obligations must change. You may already have decided that specific promises should never have been made. Perhaps items of personal property may have to be off-loaded. And perhaps for good!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Everything should be moving this weekend. For one thing, it looks as if a foreign connection or travel arrangement should be completed, finalised or terminated. For another, you're entering a new professional phase. At least you'll know what you must do next!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Mars' impact on the work and professional angle of your solar chart is bound to keep you busy. However, don't stick to your normal routine. Make a break with tradition and you'll discover just how easy life can be. And take pleasure from the fact that an ambition is now attainable.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Hopefully you will keep yourself in check at this turbulent time. Normally in such circumstances I'd advise you to make sure that your head rules your heart, but the situation now seems too complex for such simple advice. You see, your heart looks to the future while your head longs for the past!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Partners and friends certainly seem to be in a stroppy mood. There is no reason, though, why this shouldn't be one of the most rewarding and exciting periods you have ever experienced. But think about this - are they dissatisfied because you have ignored their feelings?

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
With the Moon as sensitively influenced as it is today, you must make culture, leisure, pleasure, romance, fun and relaxation your priorities, otherwise you'll miss out. Contacts with younger relatives should improve, and all young-at-heart Pisceans will thrive.

State pays highest fines, but smokes like a chimney

Of the 14.4 lakh people fined in India, 5.07 lakh are from K'taka; Activists say penalty too low

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

THE number of people fined for smoking in public spaces in the past three years is highest in Karnataka, touching 35 per cent of the total people fined in India. Despite the fine, public smoking continues and activists say they only marginally helped enforce the ban.

"Karnataka has been the leading enforcer of COTPA (Cigarettes and Tobacco Products Act) and various initiatives have been taken by the state to educate all stakeholders to make them compliant with the Act," explained Dr Sharanappa SD, DCP East. He said the aim is to regulate public smoking and not prohibit it completely, and they have been taking up initiatives but have a long way to go.

"The number of fines collected for public smoking is the highest, but this has only marginally improved the condition in the state," said SJ Chander, Consortium of Tobacco Free Karnataka. There is rampant violation of COTPA and people continue to smoke near tea stalls, paan shops and other public spaces. He claimed that tobacco industries reimburse fines to tea stalls, and encourage violations because they don't want to lose customers.

In all, 5.07 lakh people were fined from April 2019 to March 2022 in Karnataka, which is 35 per cent of the total 14.40 lakh people fined in India for smoking in public, according to data curated by Stats of India. Of the total fines, 50 per cent were imposed in Karnataka and Kerala.

Chander suggested that the fine of Rs 200 is low, and must be increased to create enforcement. Dr Sharanappa replied to this, stating that in an urban setup, the amount might be less but for people working in rural areas, it is a lot. He added that the labour class is a major consumer of tobacco-related products.

Meghana, a resident of Indiranagar, said she has seen people smoking around shops. Enforcement is not done properly, as money is taken from them but they are not prevented from smoking for the sake of their health. She also said there was a bias towards women smoking in public, as she was once caught and threatened by police, but a man smoking just beside her walked away and was not stopped.

34-yr-old bizwoman says raped by Chennai man in hotel

ENS @ Bengaluru

A 34-year-old businesswoman from the city has filed a case at the Cubbon Park police station against a 52-year-old man from Chennai on charges of sexually assaulting her.

The suspect after calling her for a business talk to an upscale hotel in the CBD is alleged to have assaulted her. The incident happened on August 6 and the victim filed the complaint four days later. A police team has gone to Chennai in search of him. The victim has also accused him of threatening her not to reveal the assault to anyone. Both the victim and the suspect are known to each other for the last two decades. The victim has told the police that he was a fatherly figure for her and trusted him blindly before going to the hotel.

"The victim had tied-up with a software development firm to create an OTT app. They required Rs 3 crore to develop the app. She had sought financial help from the suspect," the police said. The woman is married and has two children. After the suspect is arrested and statements recorded, the police will get a clear picture of the incident. The CCTV camera footage of the hotel is said to be clearly showing the victim going and coming outside of the hotel room."We will arrest the accused soon and complete the formalities," R Srinivas Gowda, DCP, Central division said.

The DCP, however, refused to share any other details stating that the case is still under investigation. A case of rape (IPC 376), assaulting a woman intending to outrage her modesty (IPC 354) and criminal intimidation (IPC 506) has been registered against the suspect.

No HC relief for hotel firm for borrowing ₹300cr with fake papers

ENS @Bengaluru

OBSERVING that the petitioner is not a peasant or petty farmer who has availed some petty loans to mitigate the hardships of life, but an incorporated company purported to be worth crores of rupees, the Karnataka High Court dismissed a petition filed by Nitesh Residency Hotels Private Ltd, which runs The Ritz-Carlton, Bangalore, questioning a letter issued by Yes Bank Ltd, recalling all credit facilities and notice issued under the SARFAESI Act.

The bank issued letters to the petitioner for allegedly defrauding it by furnishing a 'terminated lease deed' by way of security for the repayment of Rs 323 crore loan, without disclosing that the termination of lease in question was followed by arbitral proceedings.

Justice Krishna S Dixit passed the order dismissing the petition, and observed that the slogan 'Husband Your Banking Resources' becomes relevant nowadays when two dozen public sector banks have been closed down or merged with other banks, one of the reasons being "bad debts".

The hotel was sought to be established on a property which the petitioner had obtained by registered sale deed with the Archdiocese of Bengaluru. On the assurance and representations of the petitioner, the bank sanctioned credit facilities for a term loan of Rs 291 crore, granted in March 2016. The leasehold rights were furnished by way of security for repayment, coupled with certain personal guarantees and hypothecations.

However, the lease deed was terminated in the year 2014 itself, and arbitration proceedings were on. Meanwhile, the petitioner was also granted an additional temporary overdraft facility of Rs 100 crore during the Covid-19 pandemic, pursuant to a letter dated November 25, 2020, the bank being kept in complete darkness to the arbitral proceedings.

Mask penalty? Sudhakar starts with his dept

SHILPA P @ Bengaluru

AS a first step towards penalising those violating the mandatory mask rule amid the surge in Covid cases, especially Bengaluru, Health Commissioner D Randeep has issued an order to penalise those not wearing the mask at Arogya Soudha and its premises, with Rs 250.

The rule applies to officers and staff, including housekeeping staff at Arogya Soudha, and other visitors."We have directed imposition of penalty on violators, at all other offices of health department and medical colleges across the state. Based on the rise in the number of cases, we will also impose a penalty on the general public," he said. Based on recommendations of the Technical Advisory Committee, the health commissioner sent a proposal to the Additional Chief Secretary (Health) in June, recommending imposing a penalty on those violating the mask rule only in BBMP area and Bengaluru district.

Inter-departmental state water resources authority to be constituted

Aimed to use flood waters; 56% land in K'taka is irrigated by groundwater

Cabinet okays new water policy, aimed at using surface resources

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government on Friday approved the State Water Policy-2021, which will look at implementing projects that aim to utilise surface water to ensure adequate water supplies to its citizens. The cabinet also gave the nod to constitute an inter-departmental state water resources authority, headed by the water resources minister.

With the cabinet also approving various projects worth over Rs 1,000 crore across the state to ensure tap water to every household under the Centre's Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM), the new policy, in line with the National Water Policy, stresses on judicious use of available water.

After the cabinet meeting, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madjhu Swamy said the new policy will address issues like collecting surface water from rivers and other sources, and also evolving a mechanism to collect excess water during floods for future use. "Every individual needs 1,608 cubic metre of water per year and the policy will look at meeting those requirements," he added.

As per the proposal by the Water Resources Department, 56 per cent of land in the state is irrigated by groundwater. Karnataka is one of the most water-stressed states in the country with 61 per cent area drought prone. The new policy will address issues of overexploitation of groundwater, geogenic pollutants and biological contamination of water.

A system will be evolved to collect water data, its analysis and a decision support system to manage water efficiently, it was suggested. The Advanced Centre for Integrated Water Resources Management, following a recommendation from Jnana Aayoga, had prepared the state draft water policy 2021 for the government.

PRIME LANDS GRANTED TO NGOs IN BBMP LIMITS

The Cabinet approved granting of 35.33 acres of land to Janasewa Trust at Kurubarahalli in Bengaluru South to expand its activities, including setting up of educational institutions and to promote Ayurveda. The Uttara Kannada Mahasanstehala Sanste will get 3.24 acres of land at Kammasandra in Bengaluru North. The Cabinet also approved Rs 100 crore to develop Anjanadri Hills, and Rs 199 crore to KSRTC to procure 650 new buses and Rs 340 crore to BMTC for 840 new buses.

Upper age limit up by 2 yrs in teacher recruitment

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state Cabinet on Friday decided to increase the upper age limit for recruitment of teachers by two years, besides decreasing the cutoff marks for eligibility by 10 per cent.

"Since the recruitment has not taken place for a long time, increasing the upper age limit was inevitable. Also, the cutoff for eligibility is now 50 per cent aggregate instead of 60 per cent," said Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhu Swamy after the cabinet meeting.

The revised upper age limit is 47 years for the SC/ST/Category I and differently-abled, 45 for OBCs and 42 for general category candidates.

The Cabinet approved the ratification of the Juvenile Justice Act that has already been implemented and the Justice Bhaktavatsalam Commission report recommending 33 per cent reservation in local bodies.

The Cabinet also approved the construction of a guesthouse at Srisailam in Andhra Pradesh at estimated Rs 84 crore to help pilgrims from Karnataka. The Andhra Pradesh government has set aside 8,577 sqm of land for this purpose, he said.

Hiriyur in Chitradurga will get Rs 100 crore for the underground drainage system. The Cabinet also okayed the Dr DM Nanjundappa Committee report on the backwardness of taluks and approved development of 56 new taluks carved out in the recent past.

It gave the nod to withdraw 30 cases filed against activists from different backgrounds. But no cases of heinous crimes and those against MLAs and former MLAs will be withdrawn, Madhu Swamy clarified.

Nod for new Aerospace and Defence Policy

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE State Cabinet on Friday approved the Karnataka Aerospace and Defense Policy 2022-27 with an objective of transforming the state into a defence manufacturing hub. The new policy comes at a time when aerospace industrial corridors are coming up in neighbouring Tamil Nadu and Uttar Pradesh. The policy also aims to establish Karnataka as the preferred investment destination for aerospace and defence manufacturing by ensuring more incentives and subsidies for manufacturers of components and in a long way serve the purpose of the Defence Ministry's target of 70% self-reliance in weapons by 2027.

Briefing the media, Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhuswamy said that as per the new policy, 5 per cent additional subsidy will be given to encourage entrepreneurs and it may go up to Rs 35 lakh per entrepreneur to investment in the five aerospace and defence hubs in Bengaluru, Belagavi, Mysuru, Tumakuru, and Chamarajanagar.

As the skilled workforce is the need of the hour, as many as 10 engineering colleges will impart skills to 200 technical graduates with an offer of Rs 70,000 per month as stipend to them. The policy said 25% of India's aircraft and spacecraft industry is based in Karnataka and 67% of all aircraft and helicopters manufacturing for defence services is done in the state. Karnataka was the first one to implement an aerospace policy in 2013 and it is valid up to March 31,2023. The new policy has now been extended up to 2027. It is also likely to attract the investors during the Global Investors Meet slated to be held in November.

GOVT WILL ABIDE BY HC ORDER ON ACB: CM

Aam Aadmi Party members celebrate Thursday's High Court order abolishing the ACB, in Bengaluru on Friday | VINOD KUMAR T

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday said his government will abide by the Karnataka High Court order abolishing the Anti-Corruption Bureau(ACB), and added that the next course of action will be decided after discussing it with legal experts and by also keeping in view BJP's 2018 election manifesto.

The court on Thursday asked the government to restore the powers of the Lokayukta and now the Bommai government is likely to act upon it as the BJP manifesto too had promised it.

"It was discussed in the cabinet on Friday. We are committed to what we had said on ACB in our manifesto. After studying the complete judgement, the law minister, officials concerned and the Advocate General will let us know whether legislation is required to take further action," Bommai said.

"If at all there is a setback, it is for Congress as then chief minister Siddaramaiah had set up the ACB. We will discuss it with party leaders and legal experts to decide further," Bommai said.

Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhu Swamy said BJP is, in principle, committed to abolish ACB as promised in the manifesto. "But on the lines of the judgement of the court, we have to take many things into consideration. The court has not just said it has quashed the ACB, it has spoken of merger, powers to the Lokayukta and a few other things. We have to discuss how to go about next," he said.

BJP in a series of tweets attacked Siddaramaiah, saying he was responsible for the weakening of the Lokayukta. "Many corruption cases during his term including the Arkavati land denotification (Re-do) case were being registered with the Lokayukta. Siddaramaiah massacred the Lokayukta in daylight to avoid jail term. The HC's verdict is a slap on the face of him," the state party unit tweeted.

Strengthen Lokayukta police wing, says Moily

A day after the Karnataka HC quashed the State Government orders constituting the ACB by taking away Lokayukta's powers to investigate cases under the Prevention of Corruption Act, former Chief Minister M Veerappa Moily asked the government to strengthen the Lokayukta police wing. The former CM said as per the HC order the government needs to immediately bring an amendment to the Karnataka Lokayukta Act and strengthen the police wing in the Lokayukta.

Price hike: Oppn plans protests

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

The Opposition will protest against the overall hike in prices of essential items. KPCC president DK Shivakumar said, "Soon after the party's Freedom March on August 15, we will hold meetings and decide on taking up the issue."

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah said, "Price rise is squeezing the spirit of the people. They don't have money and access to essential sustenance. Since 2013, the price of an LPG cylinder has gone up by Rs 700, diesel by over Rs 50 and petrol by Rs 35-40. Prices of rice and pulses have gone up by 25% and edible oil by 130%. The Modi government is also taxing rice, dal, curd, butte-rmilk and coconut water. Even the British had not done that." AAP's Prithvi Reddy said, "Some things are out of the govern-ment's control like the Ukraine war which has affected the price of oil and gas. But survival has become a matter of crisis. The Centre's move to introduce GST on items like buttermilk, curd and other items is inhuman."

Tricolour to be hoisted near 465 water bodies

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

FOR the first time, to mark the 75th Independence Day, the Department of Rural Development and Panchayat Raj (RDPR) is hoisting the national flag at 465 water bodies that have been rejuvenated under various gram panchayats across the state. The state has over 28,000 water bodies in rural areas. Of them, 2,225 will be developed under the Amrit Sarovara Scheme by removing silt, getting rid of encroachments, building the fence, growing tree parks, introducing boat facilities and developing pisciculture.

RDPR Principal Secretary LK Ateeq told The New Indian Express that the department had chosen 15 water bodies per district totalling 465 across the state. These water bodies are now brimming with water after heavy rain in many parts of the state. "Of the 2,225 water bodies, we have picked 465 that are of medium size for flag hoisting. We will invite freedom fighters or Padma awardees staying closeby to hoist the flag. The programme has been taken up for the first time, based on instructions of the Union government," he said.

Also, all the 600-plus gram panchayats in the state will hoist the flag at their panchayat offices. The panchayat development officer along with the president will do the honours, he said. This initiative is to spread the message among rural folk about the works taken up by the department in rejuvenating the water bodies, officials said. "Many people have put in a lot of effort to achieve this. By hoisting the flag, we want to tell the people about the sanctity of the place and the need to maintain them," he said.

The state is targeting to hoist one crore flags across the state. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai recently called upon over five lakh government employees, including a large number from the RDPR department, to hoist the flag at their homes. Staff working with the panchayats, including village accountant, PDOs, watermen and others have been told to hoist the flag.

After row over Pesta murder accused, government stays Waqf appointment

SUBHASH CHANDRA NS @ Karwar

THE State BJP unit has saved itself massive embarrassment by staying its own order to constitute the District Waqf Advisory Committee, Uttara Kannada, after it came under fire from local leaders as one of the members, Azad Jamal, was an accused in the Paresh Mesta murder case in 2017. The BJP had cashed in on the murder of Mesta.

The State government, in its order dated August 1, 2022 (KSBV/ADM/CR/45/2010-11) had appointed one chairman, six vice-chairmen and members of the District Waqf Advisory Committee for a period of three years. However, the order ran into controversy when local leaders started criticising the move, saying that Azad Jamal, also known as Azad Jamal Annigeri, appointed vice-chairman, was prime accused in the Mesta murder case. He was in jail until he was released on bail.

Social media posts and politicians also slammed the appointment. "It is an injustice to the family of Paresh Mesta. It is shocking and I appeal to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to cancel the appointment," Rupali Naik, Karwar Ankola MLA, told TNIE.

She, however, defended the government action, stating that appointments are made based on recommendations by members of the Waqf Board. The government, sensing the mood of the people, issued another order staying the appointment of the advisory committee. The order KSBA/ADM/CR/01/2020-21-21/p dated August 12, 2022, puts on hold the appointment dated August 1, 2022, following a note by Minister for Muzrai, Haj and Waqf. "There are several complaints against the Advisory Committee, and considering this, the order dated August 1, 2022 has been stayed for now," says the order signed by the CEO, Karnataka State Waqf Board.

Jamal said he will abide by the decision of the government. "There are allegations against me. They are all far from the truth. I was wrongfully dragged into the case, and am mentally disturbed by this, but I have faith in our judiciary. I will come out clean," he said.

Carnivore research biased in favour of Bengal tigers: Study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A study has found that Indian conservation policies over the last seven decades are biased in favour of big cats, especially tigers. Researchers from a number of academic and conservation institutions, including the National Centre for Biological Sciences, the Wildlife Conservation Society and Centre for Wildlife Studies, assessed various research papers, books and theses published between 1947 and 2020, to understand how research on carnivores was conducted and how the research affected conservation policies in the country.

The study, 'Chasms in charismatic species research: Seventy years of carnivore science and its implications for conservation and policy in India', included studies of over 1,800 papers, books and other research material. "India's people have long shared spaces with carnivores, both large and small. Many cultures view humans and wildlife as two sides of the same coin. Studying such bio-cultural relationships, behaviour and decision-making can actually make carnivore conservation a lot more inclusive. Our study shows that we need to build capacity in multi-disciplinary approaches to address today's conservation challenges," said Dr Saloni Bhatia, co-author of the study.

While the researchers found that substantial contributions were made to the carnivore ecology field, especially in population monitoring and developing better tools for genetic research, many carnivorous species were overlooked in research. According to the study, research on carnivores has been largely in favour of big cats, with Bengal tigers acting as a major contributing factor towards conservation policy framing and environmental litigation. Meanwhile, species like mongooses, otters and civets are often overlooked.

"It is recommended that ongoing and future research efforts should focus on lesser-known species and their threatened habitats. They must combine social sciences with ecological studies and make carnivore science more democratic through establishing partnerships across diverse institutions as well as local communities that share space with conflict-prone carnivores," the authors said in a statement.

CPM sees move to sabotage lone Left govt in country through guv

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@T'Puram

IN what appears to be a direct tussle between the ruling party and the Governor, the CPM leadership has lashed out against Governor Arif Mohammad Khan, terming his stance on many issues anti-democratic. The three-day CPM state committee meeting that concluded here on Friday observed that there were deliberate attempts to sabotage the lone Left government in the country, using the Governor as a means for the same.

Briefing the media on the party state committee discussions, state secretary Kodiyeri Balakrishnan said that the recent spate of interference by the Governor was unheard of till now. The party came down heavily on the Governor for refusing to sign 11 ordinances promulgated by the state government. "The state government and the Governor are Constitutional establishments that should work hand-in-hand. But the Governor's interruptive stance does not support such a relationship. His actions will only weaken the democratic system," Kodiyeri said.

The Union Government had even earlier used the Governor's office to sabotage quite a few state governments, he said. "Because of the Governor's refusal to sign these ordinances, legislations related to key issues like public health are unnecessarily being delayed," he said. Responding to questions on whether the CPM is now going for an all-out confrontation with the Governor, Kodiyeri said the party has kept peace for a long time, but the Governor's extreme steps are now forcing the party to publicly respond in kind.

Kodiyeri termed the Governor's stance on the issue as baffling. "If the Governor refuses to sign an ordinance, he must necessarily explain the reasons for doing so. Now with the Governor refusing to sign the ordinances, the government is being forced to convene an assembly session," Kodiyeri said.

The CPM will hold talks with the CPI before finalising the bill that proposes to cut short the powers of the Lok Ayukta. He went on to point out that neither the Supreme Court nor the High Courts possess such sweeping powers that the Kerala Lok Ayukta wields.

> The state government and the Governor are Constitutional establishments that should work hand-in-hand. But the Governor's interruptive stance does not support such a relationship
> — Kodiyeri Balakrishnan, Kerala state secretary

The CPM state secretary alleged that the Union Government has been trying to hinder developmental initiatives in the state. Referring to the Enforcement Directorate notice to former finance minister Thomas Isaac, Kodiyeri said the Centre has been using agencies like ED and CBI to target its political opponents. He added that the party is all set to face such actions both legally and politically.

Row after Kerala lawmaker calls PoK 'Azad Kashmir'

BJP terms remarks anti-national and demands his resignation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Malappuram

CPM-backed MLA K T Jaleel courted controversy again, this time by terming Pakistan occupied Kashmir (PoK) as 'Azad Kashmir' (Liberated Kashmir) and calling the area comprising Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh as 'India-occupied Kashmir'.

While BJP state chief K Surendran and Congress leader K P Noushad Ali demanded the Tavanur MLA's resignation for allegedly acting against the nation's interests.

In a Facebook post on Friday, the former minister, while talking about his visit to Kashmir, criticised the NDA government led by PM Narendra Modi for the 'miserable' life of people there. "Kashmir's face is not bright. There are soldiers carrying guns everywhere. It seems Kashmiris have forgotten to laugh. Their anger with the second Modi regime for dividing Kashmir into three is evident in their expression," Jaleel wrote.

He said the part of Kashmir that was annexed to Pakistan came to be known as 'Azad Kashmir'. "Pakistan has no direct influence there," he said. When controversy erupted over his post, neither CPM and nor Jaleel provided any clarification on his use of 'Azad Kashmir' and 'India Occupied Kashmir'.

Former diplomat T P Sreenivasan told TNIE that Jaleel used the terminologies that Pakistan uses to refer to the areas. "Their use by a public representative is a serious offence. However, it does not change the Cenre's stand. India considers PoK as our land," Sreenivasan said.

Surendran said Jaleel's remarks were anti-national. "His Facebook post is against the interests of India and the Army. He should be punished for sedition. We can't expect better views on India from a former SIMI leader," Surendran said, referring to Jaleel's previous ties to Students' Islamic Movement of India, a banned outfit.

Congress' Noushad Ali sought to know the CPM's stand on the matter. "The authorities concerned should also initiate legal proceedings against Jaleel for taking a stand against India. People who love India should force CPM to act against Jaleel," Ali said.

JALEEL'S FB POST IS TREASON, SAYS BJP

T'Puram: BJP has termed Jaleel's Facebook post on Kashmir as "nothing less than treason". "It is a blatant anti-national statement. He should be brought before law and also asked to resign as MLA," Union Minister and senior BJP leader V Murlaeedharan said in Kochi. The ruling CPM, under whose support the former minister was elected MLA for the second time, chose not to react to the MLA's controversial remarks. "I have not read his FB post and will react after going through it," CPM state secretary Kodiyeri Balakrishnan told reporters. Senior Congress leader and UDF convener M M Hassan said he had not seen the former Minister's Facebook post. "It would not be right to comment on the matter without seeing the post," he said.

'Falling rupee increased price of import items'

ECONOMIST, Professor Govind Rao, former member of the National Finance Commission, said, "The prices of petroleum products have been high, this affects transportation of all commodities including food items like Tur Dal and edible oils. The falling rupee against the dollar has meant imported items like Urad Dal are more expensive. The inflation which started on the supply side has spread to the demand side."

Professor Shankarshan Basu, economist, said, "We are buying oil from Russia which is cheaper and which is not being passed on to the customers. If prices of fuel are high the transportation costs hit the overall economy. The basic staple foods like tur, urad etc are witnessing an inflationary trend because of transport prices. Add to this the dollar is strengthening against the rupee and import bill is going up, which is causing all the problem."

Asked about the increase in price of Tur Dal and food grains, Ramesh Lahoti, foodgrain trader at APMC, said market forces and a variety of reasons have ensured the prices are high. While prices of food grain and essentials remain high, many political leaders suggest that the government has to resort to some remedial measures to deal with this, failing which people will continue to suffer. Price rise is not something that will end today but will continue to simmer for sometime, Nitul J Shah a trader at APMC Bangalore told TNIE. He said rains have affected many standing crops like onions and potatoes which are grown, besides there have been complaints that some portion of the standing crops have been affected due to heavy rains and this is expected to hit the prices of these two crops when they hit the market in about 3-4 weeks from now.

THE Directorate of Enforcement (ED) has issued a Provisional Attachment Order (PAO) under the provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002, attaching immovable assets worth Rs 300.4 crore in a money laundering case against Mantri Group for "cheating home buyers of Mantri Serenity, Mantri Web City and Mantri Energia residential projects", the ED stated in an official release on Friday.

According to the probe agency, "Castles Vista Private Limited (subsidiary of Mantri Developers Pvt Ltd) and Buoyant Technology Constellations Pvt Ltd (subsidiary of Mantri Developers Pvt Ltd) induced home buyers with rosily painted schemes, showing misleading brochures, falsification of delivery time lines and window dressing. But the flats have not been delivered even after seven to 10 years of taking deposits from prospective home buyers," the ED stated.

"Investigation under PMLA was initiated on the basis of an FIR registered by Subramanyapura Police Station, Bengaluru, under various sections of the IPC Indian Penal Code (IPC). Multiple FIRs have also been registered by home buyers against Mantri Developers Pvt Ltd, its subsidiaries, directors and promoters for cheating the public by inducing home buyers with false promises, at Cubbon Park police station," the central agency added.

The ED had arrested the founder and promoter, director of Mantri Developers Pvt Ltd Bengaluru, Sushil P Mantri on June 24 this year in connection with the ongoing investigation under PMLA. "Further investigation revealed that Mantri Developers Pvt Ltd and its subsidiaries diverted home buyers' money to other projects which is a criminal breach of trust. The money was given to the developers in good faith and has been diverted for purposes other than construction of projects resulting in criminal misappropriation diversion of Rs 300.4 crore, thereby committing the offence of money laundering under Section 3 of PMLA. Accordingly, immovable assets worth Rs 300.4 crore in Mantri Serenity an dMantri Energia residential projects have been attached under the Act," the probe agency added.

PSI suspended for assaulting protester

AMIT S UPADHYE @Hubballi

A police sub inspector attached to Kurugodu police station in Ballari district has been suspended on the charges of assaulting a person. The video of police officer Manikanta hitting the person went viral, prompting the higher authorities to suspend him.

According to locals, the police officer started beating a resident named Gangadhar without any provocation, after which the residents lodged a complaint against the officer. An atrocity case has also been registered against the PSI.

Locals said that the victim Gangadhar was injured a fortnight ago in a police lathi charge in Kolur village. The villagers had gathered near a lake where a woman had committed suicide. It is said that to disperse the crowd, the PSI used lathi, wherein Gangadhar's leg was fractured. A week later Gangadhar went live on social media explaining his ordeal and demanding action against the police officer.

A week later, the Congress party members of Kurugodu put up posters in the town wishing people for Independence Day. The poster had a photo of the PSI along with politicians and other personalities. BJP members raised objection to this as they said the government servant cannot associate himself with a political party. Some of the members even removed the poster from many places in the city. This irked the PSI and he called Gangadhar to the station.

"Gangadhar apologised to the PSI and deleted the video from his social media account. Meanwhile, some Congress workers questioned the PSI, he alleged that his photo was put up by Gangadhar and said he had no connection with any political party. Gangadhar pleaded innocence, stating that he did not do so. Then the PSI slapped Gangadhar," said an eyewitness.

Couple accused of cheating bank, probe on

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

A couple has allegedly cheated a Government of India-undertaking bank by withdrawing Rs 4.99 lakh in cash which was kept in the name of a minor girl by her grandmother as fixed deposit. After the aged woman died, a woman and her male accomplice impersonating as the daughter and son-in-law of the former produced a minor girl as the granddaughter and withdrew the fixed deposit.

The accused have even submitted the death certificate of the senior citizen. They have also produced documents claiming that they are the guardians of the girl and are authorized to withdraw the amount. The Aadhar card of the minor girl and documents of fixed deposit have also been submitted to the bank by the suspects. The incident came to light when the actual son of the aged woman approached the bank to withdraw the fixed deposit amount kept in the name of his daughter by his mother. The bank's branch is located near Bidadi.

The complaint has been against Rathnamma of Kaggalahalli and Jagadish of Magadi. The complaint was filed by the bank manager on Wednesday. "The couple are said to be relatives of the aged woman who died a few months back. There are two minor girls in the family and both their names are the same. One girl is aged 9, while the other is 16. The couple are refusing to return the money to the bank claiming that the fixed deposit was made in their daughter's name. It is not clear in whose name the fixed deposit was kept. The bank manager has filed a complaint in this regard," said the police.

The police are yet to summon the suspects.

TN takes big leap in elephant conservation, Agasthyamalai reserve notified

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @Chennai

IN a further impetus to elephant conservation efforts, the Tamil Nadu government has notified 1,197.48 sq.km area spread across Kanniyakumari and Tirunelveli districts as Agasthyamalai Elephant Reserve on World Elephant Day on Friday. This will be the fifth elephant reserve in the State.

Last month, the Union Environment Ministry had approved the State forest department's proposal to declare it as elephant reserve.

Chief Minister MK Stalin, in a tweet, said, "On #WorldElephantDay2022, I'm glad that Tamil Nadu gets its 5th Elephant Reserve at Agathiyamalai in Tirunelveli district. Elephants play a critical role in balancing forest ecosystems. The majestic mammals are nature's assets that we must conserve at all costs."

Additional Chief Secretary of Environment and Forest Department Supriya Sahu said the notification of the new reserve was one of the most significant milestones in elephant conservation in the State.

With the Centre's nod, the forest department is set to get additional funding under Project Elephant. Although the area is already protected as a reserve forest or wildlife sanctuary, the elephant reserve status will give focus to protection and conservation of elephants as an indicator species representing a healthy ecosystem. Further, elephant corridors will be identified and better management practices can be adopted. The Periyar-Agasthyamalai landscape is home to an estimated population of 1,800 Asian elephants (Census 2010).

About 300 elephants at the Periyar-Agasthyamalai landscape are isolated on the southern side at the Agasthyamalai and Mahendragiri hill ranges in the evergreen forests of Thiruvananthapuram forest division, Neyyar, Shendurney and Peppara Wildlife Sanctuaries, and Kalakkad-Mundanthurai Tiger Reserve. The elephant population found south of this is in the Periyar-Agasthyamalai landscape located in Tamil Nadu and Kerala, which extends over 5,600 sq.km. across 16 forest divisions.

The elephant habitat in the landscape includes southern part of the Periyar plateau -- the Agasthyamalai and Mahendragiri hill ranges -- and its eastern end -- the Varushnad and Meghamalai hill ranges, and the Achankoil valley.

SC TAKES TRICKY ROAD TO REINING IN FREEBIE CULTURE

Judicial enthusiasm to contain irrational freebies appears to have blossomed at the fag end of the career of Chief Justice of India N V Ramana. He does not have the tenure to see it through. The trajectory of the petition after the CJI retires in two weeks would be interesting to watch. However, the question of freebies has exercised judicial minds since decades. In 2013, a SC bench saw no merit in a petition challenging the DMK promise of free TV sets in Tamil Nadu, accepting the party's argument that they were meant to provide information to the beneficiaries and not just entertainment. That was when the SC also said such questions ought to be debated in the legislature and not the court. But the present Ramana bench has little trust in letting Parliament take the call, observing as it did that all political parties have a vested interest in dangling freebie carrots. It is instead trying to set up an expert panel comprising all stakeholders to go into the matter.

That the Sri Lankan economy's sinking is tied to the ruling party foregoing revenue by implementing its irrational promise of slashing taxes is well understood. Also, quite a few states in India have unsustainable debt, so loading their economies with further handouts would be decidedly unwise. The Centre lit into the freebie culture, but can it deny that its annual payout of ₹6,000 to each farmer, called the PM Krishi Samman Yojna Nidhi, is not a vote-catcher? It came at the height of the kisan unrest in the run up to the 2019 Lok Sabha polls. Was it 'revadi' or not? AAP's free electricity scheme is a big hit, but has the potential to render electricity boards bankrupt. How does one classify it? However, Kejriwal linking corporate tax cuts with freebie curbs was disingenuous.

Judicially defining freebies is not easy, as the line separating them from welfare measures is rather thin. Caught in the vortex of fierce criticism, the Ramana bench was forced to clarify that welfare schemes and freebies are two different things. Without a clear differentiator, the Centre urging the SC to issue guidelines on freebies in the interregnum was avoidable.

WELCOME REGULATION FOR DIGITAL LENDING

The RBI's long-awaited regulatory framework for digital lenders offers much-needed clarity, complete with a grievance redressal mechanism and an Ombudsman scheme. The norms are expected to arrest rising distress among borrowers over mis-selling, breach of data privacy, harassment regarding loan recoveries, and steep interest rates. The regulations, based on the RBI's internal working group recommendations, reaffirms faith that lending will be pursued strictly by regulated entities in compliance with the laws of the land, without involving third parties and thereby eliminating the scope of malpractices. Issues such as data privacy and user consent have morphed into contentious issues of late and restoring consumer confidence was integral for fintech players to survive and help borrowers make informed credit choices.

Of course, these are only the first set of operational guidelines and more norms may be added with time, as digital lending evolves. For now, the focus was solely on protection of consumer interests, transparency of loan pricing and fee, and data protection. RBI also clarified that loan disbursements must be made only into a borrower's bank account, and not into wallets or prepaid cards and that all digital loans must be reported to credit bureaus. This lowers the risk of over-indebtedness and risk build-up in the system. The move also brings parity with credit card-issuing banks, by prohibiting automatic increase in credit limit without borrower's consent.

Some other recommendations are under examination, while others weren't taken up for discussion including the need for tighter supervision of banks' partnership with digital entities. Besides, the central bank itself listed a few recommendations for government's consideration like enacting a law for outright ban of unregulated entities and rules for cracking down unlawful digital apps. It'd be a reasonable assumption that these are early days and as market players adapt new models, one would expect tighter oversight, as was the case with banking or NBFC regulation. Protection of consumer interests is paramount, and the new norms will remain one chink of light until key issues like the menace of fake loans apps are addressed.

The kind of micro-management which the present brass long figured out held the key to success in every election. What is the offshoot of the centralised style?

BJP 2.0: STATE LEADERS ARE NEAR INVISIBLE

RADHIKA RAMASESHAN
Columnist and political commentator

SOUMYADIP SINHA

A hallmark of the BJP under Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Amit Shah, his understudy, is the ubiquitous presence of the party's central command over every apparatus that keeps the humongous machinery going. There's no escaping the omniscience of the multi-storeyed structure on Delhi's 6-A Deen Dayal Upadhayay Marg, the BJP headquarter, whose 70 rooms coordinate operations with the states, districts and blocks. The working embodies the kind of micro-management which the present brass long figured out held the key to success in every election, including local body elections. What is the offshoot of the centralised style?

The party which once granted its state leaders leeway to grow and flourish as near-independent entities even under Atal Bihari Vajpayee and LK Advani in NDA 1.0 has reduced the provinces and their putative chiefs to near-invisibility, to an extent that it is sometimes hard to track who is ruling a state given the authority's penchant for replacing them.

Think, if Vajpayee and Advani had not given rein to the state leaders in their time, could Modi have soared to the heights he did? Or could Shivraj Singh Chouhan and Rajnath Singh reach where they did although they were shadows of their former selves? The BJP was a textbook counterpoint to the Congress high command's pursuit of the off-with-their-heads dictum, practised by Indira Gandhi, which destroyed the party from within. The BJP was lauded for the absence of a "high command" that manifested in the way in which some of its former CMs snubbed Advani and Vajpayee for being "interventionist". Vajpayee and Advani realised that, but for the states the party ruled, the Centre would be a hollow entity.

The domination of the BJP's central command over the states is beginning to extract a political cost. It's inconceivable to imagine that the state representatives would rebel given Delhi's overwhelming bearing but Bihar serves a heads-up not a day too early. Karnataka is on the rocky road to self-damage.

It's said that the Delhi leaders had "no clue" that Nitish Kumar, the CM in his latest incarnation as part of the "secular" Mahagathbandhan (MGB), was about to up and leave the NDA. Of course, each one of them, in Delhi and Patna, knew what was coming but deluded themselves to believe that they could push Nitish again to the threshold. An element of one-upmanship defined the BJP's equation with the Janata Dal (United), Nitish's party. He was the smaller party and the BJP, the second largest one in Bihar. So when Modi and Shah acceded CM-ship to Nitish, they expected him to be obligated for eternity.

Nitish could never forget the history of his partnership with the BJP. He joined the embryonic NDA in 1995, when the BJP sorely wished to shed the "untouchable" baggage it was saddled with after the Babri mosque demolition. Mayawati, the BSP chief, had collaborated with the BJP before Nitish's entry but the partnership was cut-throat and short-lived. With Nitish, it heralded the start of an enduring relationship with a socialist leader, who, unlike Mayawati, was not regarded as mercurial and brought electoral dividends in what was then a no-go Bihar to the BJP under Lalu Prasad's supremacy.

Unlike the present-day feisty Bihar representatives, those in the '90s accepted Nitish's upper hand over the BJP and Sushil Modi, who was initially nurtured as the party's face, became Nitish's best friend. A Delhi cabal of Advani, Arun Jaitley and Sushma Swaraj patronised Nitish.

Modi and Shah wanted to rewrite their terms of engagement with Nitish, given an acrimonious chapter in their relations but they were up against insurmountable hurdles. The central command wanted to dictate to Nitish but there was no state leader to execute its dictation. Sushil Modi was marginalised and in any case, it's doubtful if he would have pushed his friend Nitish around. The flaws inherent in a state's over-dependence on the centre were visible in Patna. A hollowed out Bihar BJP couldn't challenge Nitish because he wouldn't take any of its self-assumed leaders seriously. So, even if the BJP pompously claimed that Bihar's opposition terrain was theirs for the asking, the point is who is there to water the land and harvest the gains? Nobody.

Southward to Karnataka. The perils of dumping B S Yediyurappa, the last of the BJP's powerful provincial satraps, have only just begun to dawn on the leaders. When Basavaraj Bommai replaced Yediyurappa a year ago, Modi and Shah were lauded for "achieving" what their predecessors set out to, but could not.

In retrospect, it might be deemed as "over-achievement" because Bommai, acting on the behest of the RSS and the BJP's central brass, has thrown Karnataka in a mess, nine months before an assembly election. Bommai is not a bona fide regional representative who earned his spurs by strengthening the BJP in Karnataka; he is simply Delhi's emissary in Bengaluru. A state that sets store by its stalwarts, to an extent that the Congress was ousted after Rajiv Gandhi had humiliated a former CM, Veerendra Patil, and lost the Lingayat votes for time to come, is unlikely to easily pardon the BJP for marginalising Yediyurappa unless he is rehabilitated suitably.

It's apparent that in order to cut the losses it might accrue from the Hindi heartland where it peaked in the last Lok Sabha elections, the BJP is focussed on Telangana, Odisha and West Bengal for compensation. It is up against formidable regional challengers with charismatic chiefs. Will this circumstance compel the leaders to revisit their stand on nurturing state leaders or will Delhi continue to call the shots?

ANCIENT BOARD GAMES & A FEW VISUAL NARRATIONS

R H KULKARNI
Professor & HOD, Art History, College of Fine Arts, Karnataka Chitrakala Parishath

Board games/indoor games have been depicted in many ancient Indian paintings, sculptures and literature of ancient periods. Playing these games have been a part of many civilisations. Games not only re-energised people but also culturally bound the teams. Sometimes, the games would also create angst and enmity among people.

From the 2nd century BCE onwards, the depiction of the Chaturanga board games became a subject of great interest. Although there may have been some social stratification in ancient society, some beautiful and intricate depictions of the games show that it was quite inclusive—people from different stratas of society enjoyed it. References to this game also feature in epics like the Ramayana and the Mahabharata.

Artists adopted the visual imagery of various games to narrate their stories. Although there are diverse depictions of board games, Buddhist narratives were the first to visually depict these games. For instance, the very popular Jataka stories of the Buddha have many references to these games. For example, Vidurapandita Jataka has an elaborate description of the board game. The story of Vidurapandita is based on the game of dice, which is an indoor game like modern-day chess. It consists of a narration of a board game played between the king and his brilliant minister Vidurapandita and a Yaksha. Vidurapandita was an unchallenged expert of the Chaturanga game. The very fact that Vidurapandita and Yaksha Kunnaga played this game is important enough to be depicted in paintings and sculptures. The artists used the narrative content of the episode and synoptically represented the event in their own creative ways.

Apart from the Buddhist accounts, the Hindu Puranic accounts also speak of games like Chaturanga-Aksha Krida and many others. Ramayana has ample references to the various games played by Rama's brothers, and Mahabharata refers to the games played by the Pandavas and Kauravas. In fact, the most popular one was the game of Chaturanga-Aksha Krida. It was the leading cause of all issues connected with the Mahabharata war. The Aksha Krida—a dice game the Pandavas and Kauravas played—finally led to war. It also caused Draupadi's vastrapahara.

One of the earliest sculptural depictions of the board game can be found on a slab of the Barhut Stupa. The Stupa sculptures have been preserved in the Indian Museum in Kolkata. The Ajanta murals (5th Century CE) also have beautiful depictions of this. For example, Cave II of Ajanta has a beautiful narration of the board game as part of the Vidurapandita Jataka. Here, the game board is oblong with square blocks that remind us of the Pachisi (Parade) of cloth with knitted or painted houses. The oblong board is kept diagonally on the ground, with Vidurapandita and Yaksha seated across it. The oblong pattern became a common feature in later depictions as well.

From the 5th Century CE onwards, board games are depicted in Brahmanical sculptures in Indian art. Textual sources have a good number of references to the same. Mahabharata has the dice-playing incident that has been invariably portrayed in Indian narrative sculptures. Another important theme that features the Aksha Krida game is the Siva Parvati theme. Elephanta and Ellora rock cut temples are fine examples of the narratives. Karnataka and Odisha temples also have several examples of the theme. Siva and Parvati are the protagonists of the narrations.

An interesting depiction of an early Chalukya version of Siva and Parvati playing dice is on the mukhamantapa pillar of Virupaksha temple (dated 743/5 CE) at Pattadakal (Bagalkot district). The composition of the sculpture is highly imaginative. Siva and Parvati are seated across the main board game in an action of playing. The board, which is placed diagonally between the couple, reminds us of the painted board in Vidurapandita Jataka of Ajanta that has been mentioned earlier.

The interesting part of the composition is the diagonally placed game board plank with eleven houses on each side. The part that amazes one is how artistically rendered the figures are—they seem very involved in the game yet jovial at the same time. There are images of two-armed Ganesha, Skanda and Nandi in the composition. A few attendants around Siva and Parvati are also part of the composition.

But a subject that was very common was the Chaturanga game between the Pandava and Kaurava brothers. The theme was given so much importance that Hoysala temples have numerous depictions on the same. A fine narration of the subject is delineated in Amruteshwara temple (dated 1196 CE) at Amrutapura in Chikkamagaluru district. As part of Mahabharata's narrations, the dice game is found in the outer part of Kakshasana (back of the bench).

The composition depicts the Pandavas and Kauravas sitting on opposite sides as rival teams as they indulge in a game of Chaturanga. Their postures and hand gestures appear to be dramatically coordinated in harmony with the theme. Several temples have such depictions of Mahabharata narratives. Aksha Krida's episode finds mention of this in nearly all narrations of Mahabharata. The sculptures in Belur, Halebidu and a few other places show the skill, imagination and wit of the Hoysala-era artists.

The depictions of these board games did not stop there. It travelled through time, into each Indian century. Mysore King Krishnaraja Wodeyar III (1799–1868), a great patron of art and a scholar of high merit, composed and created many board games. His games were part of Kautuka Nidhi, one of the volumes of the well-known work, Sri Tattva Nidhi.

All this just goes to show how board games and indoor games were an important part of ancient, medieval and modern Indian life. Be it paintings, sculptures or literature, games in Indian society were treated as symbols of auspiciousness and spirituality.

Art of freebies

Apropos of Freebies and welfare two different things, says SC (August 12). While considering the PIL for banning the political practice of promising freebies, the court held that India is a welfare state and that freebies and welfare schemes are two different things. However, the petitioner argued correctly that public money should not be misused. I also agree with the Solicitor General who said that freebies will lead to disaster.

Jayashree Thampi, T'puram

Freebies are lifesavers

The Election Commission has rightly opined that freebies can be lifesavers during crises. The SC has also said that the difference between freebies and welfare schemes is like chalk and cheese. It takes deep understanding and brainstorming among all stakeholders to formulate proper guidelines in order to curb freebie culture. When ambiguity prevails in defining such a culture itself, it's not possible to stop parties from making unrealistic promises. As the apex court has rightly said, it is undemocratic to punish political parties on that count.

DV G Sankararao, Vizianagaram

Oppn and subsidies

The Opposition is spreading misinformation about subsidies and freebies. The Modi government and the Supreme Court never said anything against subsidies. In fact, since we are a welfare state, subsidies will always remain for the benefit of the poor. However, misusing this must stop. Freebies are essentially a part and parcel of vote bank politics—it will have irreparable damage to our economy.

South India's gems

While we live in an era where historical facts are distorted mainly by politicians to gain acceptance, the column Unsung heroes of South India (August 12) is poignant on some of the mysterious breaches in historical recordings. Kattabomman and Vanchinathan are not known outside Tamil Nadu. Why even good historians sought to underplay their role in the freedom struggle is the question.

The DMK-led Tamil Nadu government has made the right move by selecting Parandur as Chennai's second airport. Getting a second airport for Chennai will boost the economy of the city and create unique opportunities for people to benefit from emerging technologies and digital transformation.

Time for Oppn parties to join hands: Tejashwi

Political realignment in the state worth emulating by others, RJD leader says after meeting Sonia, Left leaders

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

BIHAR Chief Minister Nitish Kumar's decision to join the Mahagathbandhan was a "slap on the BJP's face" and a similar realignment of Opposition forces will happen across the country now, RJD leader and Deputy CM Tejashwi Yadav said after meeting Congress president Sonia Gandhi in New Delhi on Friday.

Tejashwi also met CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury and CPI leader D Raja.

During his meeting with Sonia at her 10 Janpath residence, discussions were held on cabinet expansion in the state, Opposition unity in the country and raising people's issue like price rise and unemployment, sources said. The RJD leader briefed her on the new political arithmetic in Bihar.

Talking to mediapersons after the meeting, Tejashwi said, "Nitish ji's timely decision is like a slap in the face of the BJP. Except for the BJP, all political parties are one in Bihar. This will happen across the country now. People are tired of unemployment, inflation and religious clashes. It's time for all opposition parties to come together and make a strategy for future."

Accusing the BJP of working to kill the regional parties, the Bihar Deputy CM said democracy will be finished if the regional parties perish.

He exuded confidence about running the Mahagathbandhan government smoothly for the second time and providing good governance.

Tejashwi also pooh-poohed the BJP's allegation that the coming together of the RJD and the JD-U was part of a deal. "It not part of any deal. It is a natural alliance... Bihar will emerge as the largest job provider state during this phase of Mahagathbandhan," he asserted.

Asked about the deadline set for providing 10 lakh jobs to the youth, as promised by his party before the elections, Tejashwi said the process would start soon after winning the trust vote in the assembly.

Describing the political realignment in Bihar as worth emulating, the RJD leader said what the state had done to take on the BJP's autocratic and political hegemony needed to be followed by others, too.

When asked about the BJP's allegation that the RJD's return to power would bring back 'jungle raj' in Bihar, Tejashwi said the real jungle raj prevails at the Centre where no one is allowed to raise their voices against injustice and hatred.

Tejashwi, Giriraj in war of words

Bihar Deputy Chief Minister Tejashwi Yadav and Union minister Giriraj Singh on Friday entered a bitter verbal duel on social media, with the RJD leader accusing the BJP MP of sharing an edited video to show him in a bad light. The war of words began when Giriraj tweeted a video clip in which Tejashwi is seen saying, "I had made the promise of providing 10 lakh jobs upon becoming the chief minister. At present, I am the deputy chief minister." Tejashwi responded by posting a longer clip of the same media interview, in which he can also be heard saying, " ... but I have discussed the matter with Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, who has taken it seriously. We will honour our promise and provide jobs."

Nitish says no ambition to become PM, vows to work for Oppn unity

RAMASHANKAR @ Patna

WHILE Tejashwi Yadav is basking in the glory of having weaned Nitish Kumar away from the National Democratic Alliance, the Bihar Chief Minister, days after taking oath afresh as the head of the Opposition Mahagathbandhan, on Friday talked of plans to forge Opposition unity in order to halt the BJP juggernaut in 2024. Talking to media persons, Nitish said, "I will like all Opposition parties to get united. Steps have been taken in this direction. Let me first complete the work in Bihar (swearing-in of the new cabinet), then I will work for opposition unity."

The Janata Dal-United leader, however, vehemently denied having prime ministerial ambitions. Asked about the possibility of his projection as the Opposition's PM candidate in the next Lok Sabha elections, Nitish said, "With folded hands, I plead that don't ask me such questions. I have nothing like that in my mind. It doesn't matter who says what; whenever somebody talks about it before me, I stop him. I want to serve my state."

When asked what role he saw for himself in bringing together a fragmented Opposition, he said, "Our role will be positive. I have been receiving many telephone calls. It is my wish that all come together."

The Bihar CM also appeared to blame the BJP for communal tension in various parts of the country. "I want my country to progress well. There is a situation of confrontation in society which should not be there. I am getting calls from across the country after I snapped ties with BJP," he said.

To a query on the possibility of the ED and the CBI being unleashed on the new ruling dispensation, Nitish said people will be watching those who are in the habit of misusing such agencies. After the swearing-in of his new cabinet, Nitish is likely to visit other states to meet Opposition leaders and regional satraps. He may also meet Congress interim president Sonia Gandhi and discuss ways to strengthening the Opposition at the centre.

SUPREME COURT

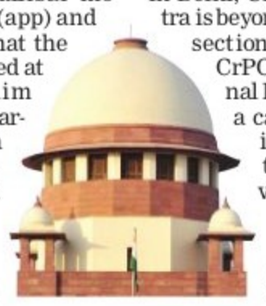
SULLI DEALS: NO STAY ON ONGOING INVESTIGATION

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday refused to stay the ongoing investigation in multiple FIRs lodged against Aumkareshwar Thakur, the alleged creator of the 'Sulli Deals' apps, purportedly used for an online auction of several Muslim women. A bench of Justices Sanjay Kishan Kaul and M M Sundresh, however, agreed to examine his plea for clubbing of FIRs, and issued notice to the states of Uttar Pradesh, Delhi, Maharashtra and others on his writ petition.

In July 2021, an FIR was registered by the Delhi Police and it was alleged that on a hosting platform 'Github', a program namely 'Sulli deal of the day' was created where pictures of several Muslim women were uploaded without their consent, purportedly for online auction.

Later, in January this year, another FIR was lodged by the Delhi Police in connection with the 'Bullibai' mobile application (app) and it was alleged that the content was aimed at insulting Muslim women. While hearing the matter, a bench of Justices SK Kaul and MM Sundresh orally observed that there are different offences as there have been multiple uploads and persons, whose pictures have been uploaded, are the aggrieved party. The bench, which said it would not stay any probe in these FIRs, issued notice on the plea and posted it for hearing after three weeks.



Thakur, in his plea settled by senior advocate Rajeev Sharma, said that multiple FIRs and complaints concerning the Sulli deals app have been filed against him in various states relating to the same incident. "The relief sought in the present writ petition is in terms of the judgment passed by this court in 'TT Antony vs State of Kerala'.for quashing all the same or similar FIRs except the first one and that a single investigation may be proceeded with," said the petition.

In the alternative, the petitioner has sought clubbing of all the subsequent FIRs with the first FIR registered by the Delhi Police in July last year. "It is submitted that the successive registration of FIRs in Delhi, UP and Maharashtra is beyond the purview of sections 154 and 156 of CrPC (Code of Criminal Procedure) and is a case which exhibits abuse of statutory power of investigation by different investigating agencies," the plea said.

Mining: Hearing on Soren & J'khand govt pleas on August 17

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Friday said that it would hear on Wednesday (August 17) the separate pleas moved by the Jharkhand government and state chief minister Hemant Soren challenging high court's order accepting maintainability of PIL seeking probe against the Jharkhand Mukti Morch (JMM) leader, who has been accused of granting himself a mining lease as the state's mining minister.

The apex court has also asked for a copy of the petition along with annexures and the pleadings exchanged by the parties to be placed on record in the ongoing trial.

The matter came up for hearing on Friday before a bench of Justices U U Lalit and SR Bhat.

Senior advocate Kapil Sibal, appearing for the Jharkhand government, told the bench that it is a 'motivated' public interest litigation (PIL) which needs to be 'thrown out'.

BJP national vice president and former Jharkhand chief minister Raghubar Das had in February this year claimed Soren abused his position and granted himself the favour of a mining lease, an issue involving both the conflict of interest and corruption.

He also alleged violations of provisions of the Representation of People Act.

Taking cognisance of the controversy, the Election Commission of India (ECI) sent a notice to chief minister Soren in May seeking his version on the mining lease issued in his favour when he himself holds the Mining and Environment portfolios. The issue is still pending with the EC.

The plea before the Jharkhand High Court had sought a probe into alleged irregularities in the grant of mining lease as also the transactions of some shell companies allegedly linked to the chief minister's family members and associates.

On June 3, the high court had said it was of the considered opinion that writ petitions cannot be thrown away on the ground of maintainability and it will proceed to hear the matters on merit.

Ex-Nitish aide Pavan Varma leaves TMC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

A couple of days after Nitish Kumar-led JD-U went into a political formation with RJD-led Mahagatvandhan, noted author and former diplomat turned politician Pavan K. Varma sprang a surprise on Friday by tendering his resignation from the All Indian Trinamool Congress (AITC).

Taking to twitter, Varma wrote to TMC chief Mamata Banerjee: "Please accept my resignation from the @AITCofficial. I want to thank you for the warm welcome accorded to me, and for your affection and courtesies. I look forward to remaining in touch. Wishing you all the best, and with warm regards."

Varma resigned from the Trinamool Congress in less than a year after joining the party inspired by the political ideologies of West Bengal chief minister Mamata Banerjee whom he had described a strong leader with all qualities to lead the national as Prime Minister.

India may give Lanka Dornier aircraft

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

INDIA is likely to hand over a Dornier 228 military aircraft to Sri Lanka within the next few days. Sources say it could be as early as August 15 when India celebrates its 75th Independence Day.

These aircraft are at present being used for reconnaissance missions by the Navy and this would be a part of the Line of Credit (LoC) that India has extended to Sri Lanka.

"Talks for the Dornier aircraft have been going on for a while now. The Dornier 228 is widely used by the Navy for electronic warfare missions, maritime surveillance and disaster relief. Indegenously manufactured, this can be used for maritime survellaince," say sources.

The Dornier, a twin-engine aircraft, is being used by Indian Navy, Coast Guard and Indian Air Force. Manufactured by Hindustan Aeronautics Ltd, it is licenced from Swiss copmay RUAG.

Earlier this year, Sri Lanka's former Foreign Minister G L Peiris met External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar and National Security Advisor Ajit Doval to talk about buying the Dornier aircraft.

There were talks of giving Sri Lanka two Dornier aircraft and the cost of this would be adjusted in the LOC extended by India to Sri Lanka. India has provided $3.8 billion to Sri Lanka in financial aid so far.

The Dornier 228, a twin-engine aircraft, is being used by Indian Navy, Coast Guard and Indian Air Force for reconnaisance missions

Meanwhile, Sri Lanka has been able to defer Chinese survellaince vessel Yuan Wang 5 from docking into Hambantota port, much to the dismay of the Chinese who are acusing India of being behind the move.

India on Friday rejected China's "insinuations" that New Delhi pressured Colombo against a planned visit by a Chinese research vessel to the Sri Lankan port of Hambantota but asserted that it will take decisions based on its security concerns.

External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said Sri Lanka, as a sovereign country, makes its own independent decisions and noted that India would make its judgment on its security concerns based on the prevailing situation in the region, especially in the border areas, seen as a veiled reference to the eastern Ladakh row.

Chinese ballistic missile and satellite tracking ship Yuan Wang 5 was scheduled to dock at Hambantota port from August 11 to 17, but reports from Sri Lanka said it has not berthed as planned.

"We reject the insinuations in the statement about India. Sri Lanka is a sovereign country and makes its own independent decisions," Bagchi said when asked about the issue at a media briefing.

In a veiled reference to India, Chinese foreign ministry spokesman Wang Wenbin on Monday said it was "senseless" to pressure Sri Lanka to prevent the ship's visit to Hambantota.

China offers $15 billion aid to Nepal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

CHINA has offered to invest $15 billion in grants in assistance for projects selected by Nepal for the ongoing year. The Chinese offer came as Nepal's Foreign Minister Dr Narayan Khadka met his counterpart Wang Yi in Qingdao recently.

This was the first high-level visit from Nepal to China since Sher Bahadur Deuba took over as PM last year. "Dr Khadka had cordial and fruitful meeting with his Chinese counterpart on August 10. The two ministers took stock of all aspects of Nepal-China relations and agreed to promote cooperation in areas of mutual interest," said Nepal's Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

Nepal has also upheld the 'One China' policy, which many nations like India and US have not reaffirmed. Nepal also reportedly assured China that their soil would not be used for any anti-China activities, sources said. "We would not like to comment on what a third country does. Our relations with Nepal are unique," said Arindam Bagchi, the MEA spokesperson.

Another migrant labourer gunned down in Valley, second in 8 days

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

TWO contrasting bits of information came in from the Valley on Friday, one depressing and the other promising. While there was yet another targeted killing of a migrant labourer, news filtered in that Kashmir's first ever multiplex will open next month. At present, the Valley has no cinema halls.

Back to the depressing news, militants shot dead a 19-year-old migrant labourer from Bihar in north Kashmir's Bandipora district on Thursday night.

Mohammad Amrez was gunned down from close range at Soadnara, a police officer said.

He hailed from Bihar's Madhepura. He received multiple bullet injuries and was taken to a hospital, where he succumbed to injuries. This was the second targeted killing of migrant labourers in the Valley in the last eight days.

GIS mapping of national highways runs into roadblock

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE project initiated for GIS mapping of the entire network of national highways is stuck as states and Border Road Organisation (BRO) are yet to submit details of ongoing highway development work under their jurisdiction. The ministry of road transport and highways on Thursday issued a fresh reminder to state governments, union territory (UT) administrations, and BRO asking them to provide requisite details along with accurate longitude and latitude mentioned in detailed project reports (DPRs) urgently.

With the Centre revamping of PM Gatishakti National Master Plan, the ministry asked the state governments and concerned agencies to upload details of alignments and mapping on the portal after validation. Last month, the ministry wrote to all concerned officials to 'accord top priority' to request seeking details so that the validation of highway alignments could be concluded by July 31.

New ministry notiofication issues to states, BRO

The ministry of road transport and highways on Thursday issued a fresh reminder to state governments, union territory (UT) administrations, and BRO asking them to provide requisite details along with accurate longitude and latitude mentioned in detailed project reports (DPRs) urgently.

"The process of validation of alignments on geographic information system (GIS) platform of PM Gati Shakti portal is still in progress as information pertaining to NHs with the state governments are not fully made available and no information pertaining to highways with BRO has been received so far," officials said.

The note sent on Thursday requested all highway development government agencies including National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) to give directions to all field units for needful action, pro-active support to the ministry's regional offices with regard to the matter. The mapping is being done by the Bhaskaracharya National Institute for Space Applications and Geo-informatics (BISAG-N), Gandhi Nagar. GIS maps contain integrated location data like presence of a facility or structure at site descriptive information.

According to the officials, GIS mapping of the entire network of NHs is one of the most important requirements for planning, execution and monitoring of NHs network.

TMC leader Anubrata Mondal visits a hospital for medical check-up after being arrested by CBI in Kolkata on Friday | PTI

Cattle smuggling an open secret, nexus runs deep

Politicians as well as officials had hands in cross-border smuggling

CHANDAN NANDY @ New Delhi

TRINAMOOL Congress (TMC) strongman from West Bengal's Birbhum district, Anubrata Mondal, arrested by the CBI in connection with the cattle smuggling racket in the state, was part of a wider nexus involving senior BSF officers, other politicians and local administration officials.

Intelligence Bureau and BSF officials revealed that long before Mondal's arrest, the West Bengal Criminal Investigation Department (CID) moved swiftly to nab Abdul Barik Biswas on alleged coal smuggling charges on July 22 to "deflect" his deeper involvement in cattle smuggling.

While Barik's cattle smuggling operations centred around Basirhat in North 24 Parganas district, his "lieutenant" Enamul Huq worked the racket in Madla and Murshidabad. Huq, who was arrested by the CBI, first in 2018 and then in 2020 before he got bail on both counts, was rearrested by the ED in February.

Biswas' "net worth" from cattle smuggling, sources said, was ₹1,500-2,000 crore. He would pay off politicians, police, administration and BSF officers, especially during 2014-2019.

"Barik would directly coordinate all operations with BSF officers and attend meetings with SPs and DMs," an officer said.

BSF's intelligence wing, the G branch, wrote several letters, to the Union Home Ministry (which was then under Rajnath Singh), informing them of the scale of cattle smuggling on the India-Bangladesh border, and shared a list of officers, including at least three DGPs, two additional DGPs, and three IGs, who were "deeply" involved.

Two commandants – Jibu D Mathew and Satish Kumar – were then arrested by the CBI and ED in January 2018 and April 2022, respectively. Court martial proceedings are on against two other BSF officers – Kumar Sanjay Jha, a commandant, and Sanjay Kumar, a deputy commandant – since April 2019. During his interrogation, Mathew had revealed the name of a BJP minister's son, who is an MLA in UP, for being a beneficiary of the proceeds of cattle smuggling.

"The illegal enterprise was most rampant between 2014 and 2019 when the politician-BSF-police nexus made windfall gains," a BSF official said.

Mondal faked illness to avoid questioning and arrest: CBI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

A day after arresting TMC strongman Anubrata Mondal in a cattle-smuggling case, the CBI recorded statements of the government doctor who had advised the TMC leader bed rest on his "request".

Chandranath Adhikari, along with two other staffers of Bolpur sub-divisional hospital, went to Mondal's Bolpur house on Tuesday for his check-up. It was apparently arranged after a nudge from the hospital superintendent. Adhikari said he had advised bed rest as per Mondal's request.

"We questioned Adhikari and his statement shows that Mondal had faked illness to evade interrogation or arrest," said a CBI official.

The CBI began questioning Mondal on Friday morning but stopped after an hour as he complained of chest pain. He was taken to Command Hospital for medical examination.

The central agency is also probing Mondal's links with Bogtui massacre in Birbhum district, in which 10 persons, including children and women, were charred to death in a case of alleged arson. The CBI is examining the alleged involvement of Mondal and his association with Bhadu Sheikh, a local panchayat leader whose murder triggered the arson.

"We are also exploring his involvement in coal pilferage through illegal mining," said a CBI officer. The agency is also investigating murders and rapes that occurred after the 2021 Assembly poll.

Mondal arrest: Fear of loss at grassroots looms large in TMC

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

THE arrest of Anubrata Mondal in an alleged cattle scam not only threatens his three-decade political career, which has been marked by controversies, but is also likely to have an adverse impact on the TMC's performance in the panchayat elections next year. Party leaders also fear debacle in the 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

More than the arrest of former minister Partha Chatterjee, the TMC is more concerned about the impact of handcuffs put on Mondal by the CBI. District presidents like him are considered the main architects who ensure victories in rural polls.

"A minister hardly plays a role in rural elections. It is the district-level functionaries who work at the booth level under district presidents like Mondal," said a TMC leader, adding that in the 2018 panchayat poll, the TMC bagged all 462 panchayat samiti seats and 30 zilla parishad seats in Birbhum district where Mondal lives. "It was possible because of his election tactics as the party's district president. So his arrest will hurt more than Chatterjee's arrest," the leader added.

Mondal first came into the limelight during the 2013 panchayat polls, when he asked his supporters to burn down houses of opponents and hurl bombs at police if they tried to stop the arson. On several occasions, he allegedly incited violence while delivering speeches.

Although Mondal's comments drew sharp reactions, Mamata Banerjee made light of his remarks, citing his medical condition of hypoxia.

"Though TMC is yet to take action against Mondal, the party has also not said anything against BJP's misuse of central agencies. Won't it have an adverse impact on the upcoming polls?," asked a TMC leader.

Durga Puja to be back on 'shaky' ground

The Mohammad Ali Park Durga Puja will be held inside the park this year after a three-year break. Preparations for setting up the pandal have already begun. The Puja was shifted out of the park in 2019 after an inspection by engineers showed that an underground reservoir on which the park rests is in poor condition, and there was a danger of the ground caving in. However, the reservoir has not been repaired yet. A puja committee member said the event would be held on the part of the ground that does not have the reservoir underneath. Engineers of Kolkata Municipal Corporation said a portion of the ground does not lie on the reservoir but it is not clear if the pandal is being erected there.

Over 65 cases have been reported from New Town, Rajarhat and Salt Lake in the past one week. Health officials said many people are treating all fever cases as Covid, but it is important to diagnose and start treating dengue patients in the initial stages to prevent fatalities and complications in the long run.

Cong joins 'freebie club' in Guj, promises farm loan waiver, free power

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

WITH the Gujarat Assembly polls drawing closer, the Congress has started rolling out promises. On Friday, it promised a waiver in farm loans of up to ₹3 lakh if voted to power.

The AAP and BJP, however, rejected the Congress' pitch.

The Congress' renewed thrust on 'freebies' comes at a time when the Supreme Court has formed a panel to reexamine the 'revadi culture' that has the potential to economically ruin the country.

State Congress chief Jagdish Thakor and ex-chief Bharat Sinh Solanki jointly announced the promise, saying the party always stood with farmers.

"The party will provide free electricity to farmers for 10 hours. Congress will come up with a law to protect the farmers' right to minimum support price even in the open market. Even when prices of agricultural produce crash in the open market and go below the MSP level, we'll keep up the loan waiver," said Thakor.

The Congress also promised to give an MSP bonus to farmers. "They will get ₹5 per litre for contributing in milk production in cooperative dairies," said Thakor. The party also promised employment to the educated unemployed youth.

The Congress leaders promised that their government would revise domestic/commercial power consumption tariffs and aim to keep the rates down to affordable levels.

Other promises made by Congress include 33% reservation for women in cooperative bodies in the state, and a change in laws to "free cooperative sector from the clutches of BJP."

AAP's national joint general secretary Isudan Gadhvi said no one would trust Congress. "Farmers gave a chance to Congress for 27 years, but did that party do anything?" he asked, adding, "The Congress has government in Chhattisgarh and Rajasthan. The party should first give 10 hours of electricity to farmers in Rajasthan,"

The BJP too slammed Congress. "Everybody knows what has happened in Rajasthan. The party is a sinking ship. No one will trust its leaders," said BJP's Rutvij Patel.

BJP tries to match AAP offer for doles

Soon after Arvind Kejriwal told Gujarat cops that he will revise their pay grade if AAP comes to power, state Home Minister Harsh Sanghvi said "an announcement on police pay grade will be made soon." The police have been protesting for pay revision.

Maharashtra BJP keeps caste factor in mind to name state party officials

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

Caste arithmetic is the centre of the BJP's organizational changes in Maharashtra. On Friday, the party appointed Chandrashekhar Bawankule as the state party chief, while MLA Ashish Shelar was named the new chief of the Mumbai unit.

Party chief JP Nadda issued a note announcing the appointments.

Bawankule belongs to the OBC Teli community, which has a sizable population in some pockets of Maharashtra. while Shelar is a Maratha by caste.

BJP sources expressed surprise over the names chosen for the top posts. The new office-bearers were appointed after Mangal Prabhat Lodha, the outgoing president of the Mumbai BJP unit, and Chandrakant Patil, the exiting state party chief, were inducted as ministers in the Shinde-Fadnavis government.

"It was natural for the party leadership to appoint leaders from within the party. However, the names that were doing the rounds for the two posts are vastly different from the ones that have been finally chosen. This is yet another shock to us after Devendra Fadnavis was relegated to the number two post as the deputy chief minister in the Eknath Shinde-led government," said a senior BJP leader.

Shelar's new charge has come for the third time. "Shelar was strongly expecting a cabinet berth in the new government or appointment as the Maharashtra BJP unit president. He has led the party unit twice in Mumbai and did a remarkable job by ensuring wins. But now, the BJP is in power again, and he still has been asked to take up the old post that he has already held. In the given circumstances, it would appear that he has not really moved up the ladder," said a person close to Shelar.

Another senior BJP leader also expressed surprise about Bawankule's appointment.

"In the 2019 assembly polls, Bawankule was denied the ticket despite his bright prospects. The leadership's decision sent out a wrong message, leading to the Teli community turning against the BJP and the party losing a dozen seats in Vidarbha," said another party source, adding that to repair the damage, Bawankule was given the MLC ticket and has now been made the party state president. "However, he is not the charismatic leader who can influence voters across the state. This decision seems to be a compromise leader," said the source.

No cremation: Assam family forced to bury man who married outside caste

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

ATUL Sarma was forced to live a socially isolated life for 27 years, and the ostracization contiued to be in effect even after his death.

Sarma (65) died at his residence on Tuesday but his family was compelled to bury the dead body instead of consigning it to flames due to alleged non-cooperation from the villagers, the police said.

The incident took place in a village in Darrang district of northern Assam. Sarma's crime? He had married a woman outside his caste. The family has been allegedly left to remain socially-isolated in the village for the past 27 years.

After the incident came to light, the police picked up a man for allegedly instigating villagers not to take part in Sarma's cremation.

"We have picked up one person. Different stories have emerged as regards his role. We are investigating the issue," Darrang Superintendent of Police Raj Mohan Roy told this newspaper.

Officials of the district administration visited the family of the deceased on Friday and helped it perform the last rites as per Hindu rituals after the body was exhumed in the presence of a magistrate. An autopsy was also conducted before that. Sarma's only son is employed in Punjab.

Pranita Devi, the widow of the deceased, said she and her daughter were relieved that the body was eventually consigned to flames.

"We wanted his dead body to be cremated according to Hindu rituals. After his death, I had called the people of the village. They came over but refused to take part in the cremation as I don't belong to his community. So, we were force to bury the body," the woman said.

A brother of the deceased and two other relatives had to conduct the burial by the side of a river.

The leaders of some social organisations, who visited the house on Friday, condemned the incident.

"It is unfortunate that the family suffered for 27 years because Atul Sarma married a woman outside his caste. The man died but people did not come forward to perform the last rites. Where is humanity?" a leader of one of the organisations lamented.

We wanted his dead body to be cremated according to Hindu rituals. The villagers refused to take part in the cremation as I don't belong to his community. So, we were force to bury the body —Pranita Devi, wife

"In the first phase, we would open two auditoriums, in which films will be shown simultaneously. Later, we would open the third hall, a gaming zone and food court," Dhar said. All the employees will be recruited locally.

Theatres in Kashmir were shut in 1990 after the eruption of militancy. Srinagar alone had about 10 cinema halls then, including Firdaus, Shiraz, Naaz and Neelum.

Seepage in under-construction dam, 18 villages vacated in 2 districts of MP

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

AT least 18 villages in two districts of Madhya Pradesh have been vacated following seepage in a dam being built on the Karam river.

The seepage, which was spotted on Thursday, apparently happened after the recent spell of heavy rains.

BJP MLA and cabinet minister Rajvardhan Singh Dattigaon, state's water resources minister Tulsi Silawat and district officials reached the site on Friday.

"CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan is keeping a tab on all developments. A enquiry committee has been formed and it will submit its report in three days," Silawat said.

Being built for four years for about ₹304 crore in Dharampuri area of Dhar district, the dam promises to aid irrigation of 10,500 hectare area in 50-plus villages.

Dam being built in Dharampuri area of Dhar district develops seepage | EXPRESS

According to Indore divisional commissioner Dr Pawan Sharma, "The seepage started on Thursday causing erosion of a part of the black soil on one side. Efforts are underway for controlled release of water to reduce pressure on the dam."

According to sources, the vacated villages house over 30,000 people. Two Air Force helicopters and one Army column are also on the stand by.

The Congress has alleged that cracks expose the corruption in the state. "Local residents had been complaining about faulty construction. Similar complaints are coming for most projects in tribal areas," state Congress chief Kamal Nath tweeted.

A video of a local resident Lokesh Solanki has also gone viral, in which he says that despite his complaints, no action was taken.

US and Indonesian soldiers take their positions during Super Garuda Shield 2022 joint military exercises in Baturaja, South Sumatra on Friday | AP

US, Indonesia hold live-fire drills amid tensions with China

JAKARTA

SOLDIERS from the US, Indonesia and Australia joined a live-fire drill on Friday, part of annual joint combat exercises on Sumatra island amid growing Chinese maritime activity in the Indo-Pacific region.

A total of more than 5,000 personnel from the US, Indonesia, Australia, Japan and Singapore are participating in this year's Super Garuda Shield exercises, making them the largest since they began in 2009. The expanded drills are seen by China as a threat. Chinese state media have accused the US of building an Indo-Pacific alliance similar to NATO to limit China's growing influence in the region.

The UK, Canada, France, India, Malaysia, South Korea, New Zealand, Papua New Guinea and East Timor also sent observers to the exercises, which began early this month. The US Indo-Pacific commander, Admiral John C. Aquilino, said the 14 nations involved in the training are signalling their stronger ties as China grows increasingly assertive in claiming virtually the entire South China Sea and holds exercises threatening self-ruled Taiwan.

"The destabilising actions by the People's Republic of China as it applied to the threatening activities and actions against Taiwan is exactly what we are trying to avoid," he said at a joint news conference with Indonesian military chief General Andika Perkasa in Baturaja, a coastal town in South Sumatra province. "We'll continue to help deliver a free and open Indo-Pacific and be ready when we need to respond to any contingency," Aquilino said.

US to conduct air, maritime transits in Taiwan Strait

The United States will mount a "freedom of navigation" exercise in the "next few weeks" through the Taiwan Strait, despite rising tensions with China over the island, a senior US official said Friday.

Trump raid: FBI was after nuclear documents

US Attorney General personally signed the search warrant to retrieve classified documents on nuclear weapons

WASHINGTON

FBI agents were looking for confidential documents about nuclear weapons when they raided Trump's Mar-a-Lago resort on Monday, The Washington Post reported on Friday quoting sources.

The possible presence of such sensitive documents may explain why US Attorney General Merrick Garland took the highly unusual action of ordering the bureau to conduct a raid on a former US president. "I personally approved the decision to seek a search warrant," Garland told reporters in his first public statement since the raid. "The department does not take such a decision lightly."

Reports also said Trump was particularly fixated about the US nuclear arsenal during his term in the Oval Office.

The Wall Street Journal said FBI agents removed 11 sets of classified documents from Mar-a-Lago. The newspaper said some of the documents were marked "top secret" and were "meant to be only available in special government facilities."

The raid on Trump's palatial Mar-a-Lago residence sparked a political firestorm in an already bitterly divided country, and comes as he is weighing another White House run in 2024. In a statement on his Truth Social platform on Thursday, Trump said his attorneys had been "cooperating fully" and "the government could have had whatever they wanted, if we had it." "And then, out of nowhere and with no warning, Mar-a-Lago was raided at 6.30 in the morning," he said, adding that agents even "went through the First Lady's closets and rummaged through her clothing and personal items."

House Intelligence Committee ranking member Mike Turner speaks during a news conference in Washington DC on FBI's raid on Donald Trump's property | AFP

US justice officials were poised Friday to make public a sealed warrant explaining the unprecedented raid.

The 76-year-old Trump supported the release of the search warrant, although he has had a copy of the document for days and could have revealed its contents himself previously.

"Release the documents now!" he wrote on his Truth Social platform.

In the hours before Garland's remarks, an armed man tried to storm an FBI office in Cincinnati, Ohio in an attack that appeared to be a direct response to the FBI search. The assailant, shot dead by police after exchanges of gunfire and an hours-long standoff, was identified as Ricky Shiffer. The New York Times said a person posting on Truth Social under that name wrote "I tried attacking the FBI," and said he hoped his actions would serve as a "call to arms." Agencies

EU presidency mulls visa ban on all Russians

PRAGUE

THE Czech Republic, which holds the rotating EU presidency, said on Friday that a blanket ban on visas for all Russian travellers could be the bloc's next sanction on Moscow.

"The flat halting of Russian visas by all EU member states could be another very effective sanction," Czech Foreign Minister Jan Lipavsky said in a statement obtained by AFP. He said he would propose the idea at an informal meeting of EU foreign ministers in Prague at the end of August.

"In a time of Russian aggression, which the Kremlin keeps on escalating, there cannot be talks about common tourism for Russian citizens," said Lipavsky. The EU has so far come up with six sanction packages against Russia.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelensky called on the West to ban all Russian travellers in an interview with the Washington Post this week, saying Russians should "live in their own world until they change their philosophy".

The Czech Republic stopped issuing visas for ordinary Russians on February 25, a day after Russia invaded Ukraine.

But Russian tourists are still flowing into Europe through Finland. Once they enter the visa-free Schengen zone, the Russians — including spies — are free to travel across most of Europe.

Finland's Foreign Minister Pekka Haavisto last week introduced a plan to limit tourist visas for Russians.

Kaja Kallas, the prime minister of Estonia which also borders Russia, called on the EU to stop issuing visas to Russians earlier this week.

"Visiting Europe is a privilege, not a human right," she said in a tweet on Tuesday.

Lipavsky said the move would send "a very clear and straightforward signal to the Russian society". AFP

Pak draws up contingency plan to deal with ttp

ISLAMABAD

THE Pakistan government is preparing a "contingency plan" to deal with the potential resurgence of the outlawed Tehreek-e-Taliban Pakistan (TTP) as prospects of a peace deal with the terrorist group are grim, according to a media report.

The talks between Pakistan's tribal council leaders and the TTP being held in Afghanistan reached a deadlock after the militant group refused to back down from its demand for the reversal of the merger of erstwhile Federally Administered Tribal Areas with the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa province.

On Wednesday, Defence Minister Khawaja Asif expressed apprehension about the success of the talks. Pakistan's special envoy for Afghanistan Muhammad Sadiq had admitted the peace process was at a 'nascent stage'.

Although the government has been holding talks with the TTP for months to broker some kind of a deal, prospects of such an agreement are grim, sources familiar with the development told The Express Tribune newspaper. With reports of some Taliban fighters being seen in the Swat Valley, the authorities concerned are preparing a "contingency plan" to deal with the militant threat in case talks with the TTP collapse. Authorities have not closed the window of talks with the TTP, they are at the same time ready to deal with any eventuality, the newspaper said. Sources said the primary reason Pakistan entered into talks with the TTP was that the Afghan Taliban were reluctant to take any military action against the outfit responsible for a number of high-profile terror attacks, the report said.

Instead, the interim Afghan Taliban government was keen on Pakistan and the TTP to resolve their differences through talks. Pakistan began negotiating with the TTP not out of choice but out of compulsion, according to the sources. An oversight parliamentary committee was also set up to look into the process. PTI

IRAN HINTS IT MAY ACCEPT COMPROMISE ON NUCLEAR DEAL

Tehran: Iran may accept the final compromise worked out in Vienna to save the 2015 nuclear agreement, its official news agency IRNA said on Friday. The deal meant to curb Iran's nuclear programme has been moribund since the withdrawal of the United States under president Donald Trump in 2018. The major powers are awaiting Tehran's response to a proposal submitted on July 26 by EU foreign policy chief Josep Borrell. "The European Union's proposals are acceptable provided that they provide assurances to Iran on various points, related to sanctions and safeguards," as well as pending issues with the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA), IRNA said, quoting an unidentified Iranian diplomat.Britain, China, France, Germany, Iran and Russia, as well as the United States indirectly, resumed talks on the nuclear accord last week, after a months-long hiatus. The EU-coordinated negotiations to revive the so-called JCPOA began in April 2021 before coming to a standstill in March. The EU said on Tuesday it expected Tehran and Washington to "very quickly" respond to a "final" text aimed at salvaging the 2015 deal. The 2015 accord gave Iran sanctions relief in exchange for curbs on its atomic programme to guarantee Tehran could not develop a nuclear weapon -- something it has always denied wanting to do. The IAEA has found traces of enriched uranium at three undeclared Iranian sites. The agency's board of governors in June censured Iran for inadequately explaining the discovery. Iranian sources at the weekend insisted that the IAEA first "completely resolve" that "political" issue to clear the way for the nuclear deal to be restored. AFP

Indian, Pakistani students bond over dosa, biryani

DUBAI

INDIAN and Pakistani school students relished dosa-biryani spat as they discussed the culture, cuisine, education and technology of their respective countries in a virtual youth peace dialogue organised to commemorate the 75th Independence Day of India and Pakistan and as part of 'Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav' celebrations.Organised jointly by India-based education enterprise Val-Ed Initiatives and Pakistan-based school Learn Academy on Tuesday, the 'Exchange for Change' programme had 20 Indian and Pakistani students from grades 6-9.

"We loved arguing over whether dosa is more popular than biryani. More importantly, we discussed our two countries' culture, education, technology, and much more," said 12-year-old Aliza Fatima, a UAE-based Pakistani student. Though Fatima loves sharing space with her Indian friends in school, her joy touched another level as she got the opportunity to interact with students of her age group from India. The event was organised with a vision to build bridges for peaceful understanding and nurturing future minds of the two countries to become global citizenships who prioritise humanity before nationality. Fatima said it was a great experience talking to children of her age in India.

LIC Q1 net profit drops 3/4th sequentially

Insurer's total income fell from ₹2,11,451 crore in March-ended quarter to ₹1,68,881 crore in the first quarter of FY23

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

LIFE INSURANCE CORPORATION OF INDIA (LIC), country's largest insurance firm, on Friday reported a sharp drop in its sequential quarterly profit - from ₹2,371 crore in Q4FY22 to ₹683 crore in Q1FY23, which is nearly three/fourth fall. LIC also registered sequential slump in almost every key parameter.

The insurer's total income fell from ₹2,11,451 crore in the March-ended quarter to ₹1,68,881 crore in the first quarter of FY23. Its first-year premium in the quarter came at ₹7,429 crore, significantly lower than ₹14,614 crore reported in the March quarter. On an annual basis, however, LIC registered a big surge in profit. The state-run life insurer, which went public recently, had a net profit of ₹2.94 crore in the year-ago June quarter. The company's first-year premium was reported at ₹5,088 crore and its total income came at ₹1,54,153 crore in the year-ago quarter.

"While the growth numbers are very robust for the first quarter as seen in comparison to the same quarter of FY22, we are aware that the Q1 of the previous year, FY22 was impacted by a very tough second wave of Covid," said MR Kumar, Chairperson of LIC.He added, "However, the trajectory seems upwards for sure and we are looking at increased business volumes as is evident in our market share in the year to date since January 2022."

Kumar in May'22 had said LIC's Q4FY21 profit pertained to the full year since LIC was conducting actuarial valuation once in a year until that year and hence, net profits reported in Q4FY22 and Q4FY21 are not comparable. In FY22, LIC had reported a PAT of ₹4,043 crore compared to ₹2,900 crore in FY21. LIC informed that its market share by first year premium income (as per IRDAI) increased to 65.42% for the quarter ended June as compared to full year market share of 63.25% for FY2021-22. Its asset under management rised to ₹41.02 lakh crore as of June 30, 2022, as against ₹38.13 lakh crore on June 30 2021.

CHINA

4 CHINESE COMPANIES TO DELIST FROM NYSE

Four Chinese state-owned companies including China Life Insurance and Aluminum Corporation of China will voluntarily delist from the US stock market. The two other companies, including oil giant Sinopec and PetroChina too said in separate statements that they would apply for delistings of their American Depository Shares from the New York Stock Exchange.The four will keep their listings in Hong Kong and mainland Chinese markets. "These companies have strictly complied with the rules and regulatory requirements of the US capital market since their listing in the U.S. and made the delisting choice for their own business considerations," the China Securities Regulatory Commission (CSRC) said in a statement. China and the US have been in talks to resolve a long-running audit dispute that could result in Chinese companies being kicked off American exchanges if they cannot comply with US audit rules. The companies were added to the Holding Foreign Companies Accountable Act (HFCAA) list in May after they were identified as not meeting US regulators' auditing standards.

MALAYSIA

MALAYSIA Q2 GDP UP 8.9% YoY, MORE THAN FORECAST

Malaysia's economy grew at its fastest annual pace in a year in the second quarter, boosted by expansion in domestic demand and resilient exports. GDP in April to June surged 8.9% from a year earlier, the central bank said. This was faster than the 6.7% growth forecast in a Reuters poll and up from the 5% annual rise in the previous quarter. It was also quicker than any annual rate seen since Q2 2021, when GDP was up 16.1% from a low year-earlier base. Seasonally adjusted GDP for April to June was up 3.5% on the previous three months, when quarterly growth was 3.8%. Malaysia's economy has been on a strong recovery path since the country reopened its borders in April. Full-year growth for 2022 would be at the upper end of the previously forecast range of 5.3-6.3%, said the central bank, Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM). Gradual adjustments in the overnight policy rate would be necessary to avoid stronger measures in the future, BNM said, adding that any moves would be done in a measured and gradual manner.

INDONESIA

INDONESIANS MUST PREPARE FOR A POTENTIAL FUEL PRICE HIKE, MINISTER SAYS

Indonesians must prepare for a potential hike in fuel prices as the government looks to control its ballooning energy subsidies amid high global oil prices, a cabinet minister said on Friday. Southeast Asia's largest economy has tripled this year's energy subsidy budget to 502 trillion rupiah ($34.22 bn) in order to keep fuel prices and power tariffs unchanged and manage inflation. However, this may not be enough, as nearly all subsidised fuel quota has been used, as per the finance ministry. Indonesia's Investment Minister Bahlil Lahadalia said if the government has to raise quota for subsidised gasoline to 29 million kilolitres from 23 million kilolitres, and assuming oil prices stay elevated and rupiah weak, the subsidy bill may rise up to 600 trillion rupiah. "Please convey to the people that my feeling is we have to get ready in case a fuel price hike happens," Bahlil said, noting that it was fiscally unwise to spend 25% of government revenues on subsidies.

Hero reports 71% increase in net profit at ₹625 crore

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

INDIA'S largest two-wheeler maker Hero MotoCorp reported a year-on-year (YoY) increase of 71% in net profit during the April-June quarter (Q1FY23) over the low base of covid-hit last fiscal's same quarter (Q1FY22) and on account of improvement in sale of two-wheelers.

Hero's profit surged to ₹625 crore from ₹365.44 crore in the same quarter a year ago. Q1FY23 net was, however, flat when compared with the March quarter profit of ₹627 crore.

Revenue from operations was at ₹83,93 crore in Q1FY23 from ₹5,487.07 crore in Q1FY22. The automaker sold 13.90 lakh units of motorcycles and scooters in FY2023, up 36% when compared to the sales in the corresponding quarter last fiscal. Hero's earnings before interest, tax, depreciation & amortization (EBITDA) stood at ₹941 crore as against ₹515 crore in Q1FY2022, reflecting a 11.2% EBITDA margin and a growth of 83%.

Niranjan Gupta, chief financial officer (CFO), Hero MotoCorp, said "The fiscal year began on a positive note for the industry, with growth over not only last year but sequentially over Q4FY22 as well. While the macro-economic environment globally is facing headwinds of inflation, Indian economy is relatively better placed to move on the path to recovery and growth. Key indicators like GST collections, PMI, consumer confidence index are all moving in the right direction."

However, two-wheeler sales, especially for entry level models, continue to remain significantly lower than pre-covid times. Hit by distress in the rural economy and increased cost of ownership due to multiple price hikes by manufactures, two-wheeler sales in the recently concluded June quarter stood at 37.2 lakhs, much lower than 56 lakh units the industry sold in the same quarter of FY19.

Paytm shares decline 5% as Iias calls for removal of CEO & MD

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

SHARES of digital payments firm Paytm plunged 5% on Friday after a proxy advisory firm opposed the reappointment of its chief executive officer (CEO) and managing director.

Institutional Investor Advisory Services (IiAS) has said it opposes the reappointment of Vijay Shekhar Sharma as CEO and MD at the annual general meeting next week.

"Vijay Shekhar Sharma has made several commitments in the past to make the company profitable, however these have not played out. We believe the board must consider professionalising the management... We raise concerns that he is not liable to retire by rotation, and that he will get board permanency if he continues in a non-executive capacity following the end of his term as MD," IiAS said in a report dated August 9. Paytm's consolidated loss widened to ₹644.4 crore in the first quarter of FY23 as against a net loss of ₹380.2 crore in the year ago quarter. The stock closed at ₹786 apiece on Friday, down about 5% from the previous day closing.

ADIA to buy stake in Aditya Birla Health Insurance

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

A wholly-owned subsidiary of the Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA) will invest ₹655 crore for a 9.99% stake in Aditya Birla Health Insurance (ABHI), a joint venture of Aditya Birla Capital (ABCL) and Momentum Metropolitan Strategic Investments (MMH).

Once the transaction is completed, ADIA will own a 9.99% stake, ABCL will hold a 45.91% stake and MMH a 44.10% stake, respectively, in ABHI.

"The Boards of Directors of Aditya Birla Capital and Aditya Birla Health Insurance approved a proposal for a primary capital infusion of nearly ₹665 Crore in ABHI, from a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Abu Dhabi Investment Authority (ADIA)," the company said in a statement. No GST on house rents, clarifies govt

@ New Delhi

AFTER the outrage on social media over 18% GST on house rent, the government on Friday clarified that there is no GST on rent to a private person for personal use.

The fact-checking team of the Press Information Bureau put out a tweet saying that renting of residential units are taxable only when it is rented to business units. It also said that there is no GST on rent even if proprietor or partner of a firm rents residence for personal use.

The confusion arose after the government amended the GST law recently to bring the renting of residential dwelling for registered persons under the tax ambit.

Renting of residential dwelling for residential use was exempted from GST. Registered person who took residential dwellings on rent for their employees such as directors, senior executives, etc availed of the benefit of the said exemption. Now, GST is leviable on renting of residential dwelling to registered persons with effect from July 18, 2022, and the same will be payable under reverse charge mechanism by the registered recipient.

The wording of the notification was such that there was confusion if renting by registered persons even for personal use could be taxed.

The clarification by the government clears the doubts.

Govt issues SoP for work from home in SEZ

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ NewDelhi

THE government has come up with a standard operating procedure (SoP) for the implementation of new rule on work from home (WFH) in special economic zones.

As per the SoP released on Friday by the Ministry of Commerce, the units that intend to or are implementing WFH, will formulate a WFH scheme and submit applications to the relevant development commissioner notifying the adoption of the scheme, at least 15 days in advance from the date it is intended to put into effect. The application, it said, should cover the date of application, total number of employees, details of the employees intended to be covered, duration of the scheme, details of the scheme among other things. As per the new rule, the government will allow the WFH option to be extended to 50% of the staff, including contractual workers, and for a maximum period of one year, for firms operating in special economic zones (SEZ).

TNIE had earlier reported that government is likely to come up with a SoP on WFH guidelines for SEZs.

Its standalone net profit stood at ₹15,205.85 crore, or ₹12.09 per share, in April-June, compared to ₹4,334.75 crore. PTI

Wholesale automobile sales grow by 10.6% in July on demand recovery

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AUTO wholesales in July 2022 reported a growth of 10.6% year-on-year to 1,706,545 units as every category witnessed a surge in demand last month when compared with the low base of same month last year (July 2021), as per data issued by Society of Indian Automobile Manufacturers (SIAM).

Passenger vehicle (PV) dispatches from factory to dealer showrooms stood at 2,93,865 units in July 2021 as against 2,64,442 in the same month last year. Within the PV segment, 1,43,522 units of passenger cars were sold in July 2022, while utility vehicle (UV) sales stood at 1,37,104 units. Vans sales during the month stood at 13,239 units.

SIAM data doesn't include sales of Tata Motors, BMW, Mercedes and Volvo Auto. Tata Motors reported wholesales of 47,505 units during July 2022, a growth of 57% year-on-year. Total two-wheeler wholesales came at 1,381,303 units in July 2022 as compared to 1,260,140 units in July 2021, a growth of 9.6% Y-o-Y.

The growth in sales, especially of PVs, comes as the global auto industry is experiencing a marginal recovery in outsourcing the important semi-conductors whose shortage has dealt a big blow with original equipment manufacturers struggling to manufacture more despite a healthy demand. Passenger vehicle production grew by 7.7% in July while the same for two-wheelers rose by 3.7%.

Despite this improvement, the market for entry-level passenger cars, two-wheelers and three-wheelers are yet to recover and the third hike in repo rate will make ownership of vehicles more expensive, which may impact demand in these price sensitive segments. Rajesh Menon, Director General, SIAM said, "Market for entry level passenger cars, two-wheelers and three-wheelers are yet to recover. Sales of two-wheelers in July 2022 are still below July 2016 numbers and sales of three-wheelers are still below July 2006 numbers. Third hike in a repo-rates in a row, to rein in high inflation, will make auto loans costlier, making it more difficult for entry level vehicles to recover."

Invest in people, hire rightly: Nilekani to start-ups

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

THE key to success in businesses is to invest in its people and hire rightly, said Infosys co-founder and non-executive chairman Nandan Nilekani.

Start-ups should focus on growth as well as profitability, he added.

Speaking at the Startup Summit by xto10x, which was held recently, Nilekani said start-ups should focus on lowering customer acquisition costs. He spoke about building a company from scratch and navigating a scaling journey that can withstand the test of changing economies as well as changing times.

He shared his journey of building Infosys at a time when the concept of funding didn't exist. There were no angel investors during that time. "All our goals were in revenues and not in market capital. We kept upping the game in terms of what we want to get, and 40 years later, Infosys is now a company with revenues of $16 billion," he said.

On building resilient companies, Nilekani said, "We started Infosys completely bootstrapped in the 80's. Without the internet, we had to build our company and its network manually. But we always went ahead with a strategy in mind of how to grow our company from x to 5x to 10x and further." The Infosys co-founder also spoke about Account Aggregator framework and ONDC (Open Network for Digital Commerce), which intends to democratise e-commerce.

xto10x, a scaling platform for growth-stage start-ups, was founded by Binny Bansal, Saikiran Krishnamurthy and Neeraj Aggarwal in 2018.

Binny Bansal, co-founder-Flipkart and xto10x said, "The first 4-5 years of the Flipkart journey was always focused on moving ahead – we were at 'x' and how could we move this to 2x-3x within the next year."

The journey of Infosys

Nilekani also spoke about building a company from scratch and navigating a scaling journey that can withstand the test of changing economies as well as changing times. He shared his journey of building Infosys at a time when the concept of funding didn't exist.

Laxman is India acting head coach in Zimbabwe

CUTTING AGE: SHARATH EYES BIGGER SERVICE

Buoyant after his best-ever Commonwealth Games, TT veteran sets sights on Asiad & 2024 Paris Olympics

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

A SHARATH Kamal is brimming with joy after pulling off an incredible show in the Commonwealth Games, where he bagged three gold and a silver medal. This is the best performance by the 40-year-old who played his first CWG in 2006, where he won two gold. Playing 12 matches over a period of three days showed that he is still physically and mentally fit. He does not want to rest on his laurels and is keen on playing the Olympics at Paris in 2024. Sharath after a hectic day spoke to Express about his campaign and future. Excerpts...

Sharath Kamal

Which of the medals was most pleasing to win?
The most important win was the first gold in men's team championships which helped us gain good momentum and confidence going into the tournament.

Did you expect to win so many medals?
Yes, the number of projected medals were around six by the whole table tennis team and personally for me, I was sure about medals in the men's team, men's doubles and men's singles. But winning three gold and one silver was a pleasant surprise.

Was the singles win your best show to date?
My form in the whole tournament was my personal best and throughout the tournament, I played very well. I just continued that form with confidence into the finals.

How was mixed doubles win with new partner? How was Sreeja Akula's performance in the event?
As I said earlier, I really did not know what to expect from mixed doubles but Sreeja and I combined very well. We had a good understanding and both of us were in great shape from the beginning of the tournament. As the rounds progressed I could feel how Sreeja was developing into a complete player who could understand what she had to do and what I expected out of her.

How much effort did you put in preparations for the Games?
My preparations for the CWG started in Jan 2022 where I sat down with my coaches, fitness coach, mental trainer and nutritionist to chalk out a plan on how and when I would be training. I knew that the CWG would require a high level of physical and mental fitness with almost five to six matches everyday, so my training was broken down into match size sessions and had training for the whole day.

What did your coach Srinivasa Rao and Muralidhara Rao tell you before the games?
They had also worked as hard as I did. Without their inputs, I might not have been as sharp as I was at Birmingham. I have been working with them for 36 years now, they know me like the back of their palm. Their inputs came in handy.

How did you keep yourself mentally and physically fit?
It's a long drawn daily process which I must follow to be in my best shape both physically and mentally.

Is age just a number for you?
I don't have to talk about it as I am showing it by example. I am sure with the right kind of motivation and physical fitness, we will be able to bring in our best experience to the table.

So can we expect the same show in Asian games?
It's going to be tougher due to the competition because Asia is the powerhouse for table tennis but I am pretty confident to win some medals there too.

Do these wins and medals give the confidence to play in your 40's for a few more years and perhaps till the next Olympics?
Yes, it gives the right confidence and motivation to continue on my path in search of excellence.

Knew I would medal: Triple-jumper Selva

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

AFTER triple-jumper Selva Prabhu Thirumaran landed in Cali for the junior Worlds, he was feeling tired. He immediately slept but the tiredness didn't really go away. He developed cramps, his body was feeling so 'tight' that he started having a nagging, throbbing pain. With this pain, he took to the runway for the qualifying event on August 4. The first attempt was a foul but he leaped 15.99m — what was then his personal best till that point — in his second to qualify for the final. A day later, the 17-year-old set another personal best — 16.15m — to claim a historic silver at the Pascual Guerrero Stadium in Cali.

TOP THREE JUMPS

	U-20Worlds	KIUG	U-20 Worlds

At some level, the 24 hours in Colombia is an accurate snapshot of Selva's fledgling career. He's nothing if not a confident young man. So confident he knew he would medal as soon as he jumped to the then best of 15.99m, leaping above the pain barrier. "As soon as I landed in Cali, my body had become tight. I had cramps and had some pain because of that. But after that qualifying attempt, I knew I would medal," he tells.

What's noteworthy about Selva's jump is that he got into the discipline only a few years ago. Till he finished Class X, he considered himself a long-jumper. "I got into athletics in Class VI," he says. "From Class VII to XII, I stayed in a (SDAT) sports hostel in Tiruchirappalli. Around the time I finished Class X, I left long jump for high." Since he made that transition, he has had some creditable performances at the domestic level, including a second place at the Khelo India University Games in Bengaluru in May. While triple jumpers do rely a lot on speed down the runway, Selva, who is a first year BA English student at Bishop Heber in Tiruchirappalli, relies a lot on his explosiveness. He's just started to work on the speed aspect of the discipline. "I have had that explosive ability from a small age," he says.

WC date change mars 100-day countdown

AFP @ Doha

FIFA and Qatar organisers on Friday counted the cost of bringing forward the start of the World Cup by a day as they launched the 100-day countdown to the event.

Football's ruling body and the wealthy Gulf state both promised action to help fans, sponsors and broadcasters hit by the change, announced late on Thursday, but did not give details. The sudden move to bring forward Qatar's match against Ecuador by 24 hours — to make it the gala opening match — has only added to the public relations concerns as the conservative host country counters criticism of its rights record and fan worries about what to expect when they arrive.

"It is less than three months from the start. This has come out of the blue. It is not critical but it is a headache," said an executive for one World Cup broadcaster, speaking on condition of anonymity.

FIFA said its president Gianni Infantino and the six heads of the continental confederations had unanimously agreed to make Qatar's game and the official opening ceremony a "stand-alone" event.

Under the old schedule, Qatar against Ecuador was to be the official inauguration match on the evening of November 21 but Senegal against Netherlands would have been the first match of the day, followed England against Iran.

Under the new plan, the Group A game between Senegal and the Netherlands has been shifted from 1:00pm (1000 GMT) on November 21 to 7:00pm start. FIFA said tickets for the affected matches "will remain valid irrespective of the new date/time."

Clean energy component of US bill may face trouble

Construction of pipeline to transport carbon dioxide is a major hurdle

OPPOSITION TO THE PROJECT

One major challenge could be resistance to the construction of pipelines to transport carbon dioxide to storage sites. In recent years, private landowners in Iowa have voiced opposition to such projects, particularly the idea that the state might allow pipeline builders to seize private land for their projects. Pipeline construction is also a point of contention for environmental groups and could lead to protracted litigation. This stems in part from a carbon dioxide pipeline rupture in Satartia, Mississippi, in 2020, which hospitalised 45 people. If public opposition delays construction, projects could be pushed past the window for the incentives, leaving developers with expensive projects. While some studies argue that enhanced oil recovery results in a net reduction in carbon dioxide emissions, this may ultimately be a hard political sell for local communities

ENVIRONMENT

WASHINGTON: The sweeping climate, energy and health care bill expected to go to a vote in the US House contains about $370 billion to foster clean energy development and combat climate change, constituting the largest federal climate investment in history.

Several studies project that its climate and energy provisions could enable the US to reduce its greenhouse gas emissions by around 40% below 2005 levels by 2030.

That would be a significant improvement over the current projections of 27%, and it could put the US within hailing range of its pledge under the Paris Agreement to reduce emissions by at least 50% by 2030.

Notably, one linchpin of the bill's climate provisions is a set of incentives to substantially expand technologies that capture carbon dioxide and either store it underground or ship it for reuse.

So far, the uptake of carbon capture technologies has been slow. The costs are high, and these technologies can require miles of pipeline and vast amounts of underground storage, both of which can trigger local backlash. A recent study projected that the US would have to construct 65,000 miles of carbon dioxide pipelines to achieve net-zero emissions in 2050.

The bill also seeks to drive deployment of direct air capture technologies, which can pull carbon dioxide out of the air. At present, there are only a dozen carbon capture and storage facilities and a couple of direct air capture facilities removing a small amount of carbon from the air.

There's a reason the uptake of carbon capture, particularly direct air capture, has been slow. Direct air capture cost estimates vary from $250 to $600 per ton, according to one analysis, while experts have estimated that a price under $100 and closer to $50 could create a market.

Some experts believe that the bill ratchets up 45Q credits to start driving widespread construction of carbon capture and storage facilities in the power and industrial sectors. Others believe that the direct pay provision is "the fundamental missing piece" for carbon capture and storage because project developers and sponsors can avoid the often onerous and costly process of raising tax equity to qualify to use the credits.

However, while the bill may appear helpful on a theoretical basis, both carbon capture and storage and direct air capture could face some serious headwinds over the course of the next decade and beyond.

FAREWELL ISSEY!

PRASAD BIDAPA

WHEN the whole world of fashion was ruled by European designers, who very snobbishly refused to acknowledge that good design could come out of anywhere but Paris, Issey Miyake led a Japanese invasion that proved them very wrong.

Till then, Paris and Milan were the very epicentres of haute couture, with the great houses of Dior, Yves St Laurent and Chanel matching the Italians who gave us Gucci, Valentino, Armani and Versace. Between them, they looked down their refined noses at the Americans, whom they refused to even acknowledge as capable of producing serious fashion, even though Halston was making an impact with American dowagers. In England, Vivienne Westwood was grudgingly acknowledged to be a designer with good ideas, and it was rumoured that even Armani was influenced by her, sometimes, bizarre collections which he then refined down to more acceptable designs.

The Japanese onslaught was unexpected, to say the least. The Kimono had looked the same for centuries, and that garment had been elevated to the realm of fine art with its textile design telling the story of Japanese history and reflecting little details and hidden messages that only the Japanese could decipher. Which made it all the more surprising when Miyake burst upon the international fashion scene with his futuristic and often shockingly proportioned creations that turned the entire world of fashion on its head. Even his perfume L'Eau D'Issey went on to become a modern classic.

Together with designers like Rei Kawakubo, Yohji Yamamoto and Kenzo, Miyake was redefining the boundaries of fashion and creating clothes that were a melange of pop-art, magical illusion and colours so vivid that it seemed he had created a fantasy of fashion that was thoroughly modern and sometimes difficult to understand.

Miyake invented fabrics that had never been seen, let alone worn before. In 2018, I was invited to Tokyo by the Issey Miyake Foundation to show a documentary film that I had made on the great textile expert Martand Singh. Martand was affectionately known as Mapu, and he was responsible for introducing Miyake to the wonderful world of Indian textiles and khadi, which the great designer then adapted in his collections. This was done in collaboration with textile designer Asha Sarabhai to create a collection called HaaT, which retails in Japan and is extremely popular. We showed the film in Tokyo at Miyake's exhibition of khadi called 'Homage to Martand Singh', whom he deeply admired. Miyake travelled extensively in India with Martand and Rakesh Thakore, researching various Indian handlooms and varieties of khadi which he later incorporated into his collections. His love and admiration for Indian textiles is something that should inspire us and teach us to value our own heritage.

Miyake was a visionary, a man who saw the future of fashion and incorporated it into our lives to gift and share with us his extraordinary talent and unerring eye for style.

(The writer is a fashion and textile curator with over four decades of experience in the fashion & event industry)

ISSEY MIYAKE (1938-2022)

PLEATS PLEASE NO MORE

He brought about a revolution in the fashion industry. Issey Miyake's demise has left a void in the fashion world. The Japanese designer was the pioneer in introducing neo-noir designs in the industry, and was also the mind that gave Steve Jobs the signature black turtleneck jumpers, jeans and sneakers. Designers speak to Monika Monalisa about his work and how it has brought a paradigm shift in modern designs

Issey Miyake was a revolutionary designer who brought to us innovative styles which were technologically advanced and ahead of its times. The pleats, bold shapes, the abstract designs – the magic he created with fabric was indisputable and unimaginable. He has always pushed the boundaries of construction, and had a great eye for detail in all his creations – fashion or fragrance. For me, it was the minimal yet bold, groundbreaking creations from the classic 'Pleats Please' line. It was amazing to see how these could also be machine-washed, and yet retain their original shape, and never wrinkled. What was also great and truly inspiring about Miyake was the way in which he integrated technology with tradition, exploring Japanese aesthetics and the uncut, untailored garment.

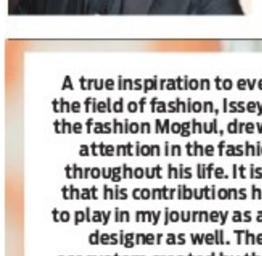
— SARIKA PAWAR

What inspired people about Issey Miyake's work or took his label to another level is his confluence of eastern and western elements. His work will always have the Japanese/Asian influence which blended with western elements. He was ingenious in that matter, and was one of the gurus of merging modern sensibilities and different continents in his designs. He was way ahead of his times and was known for technology-driven styles.

— PARESH LAMBA

We have lost an icon, someone who was way ahead of his time. As a young fashion student who studied in Paris, to me, he shaped the way we looked at form and function. Words fall short to describe his work. This is beyond fashion. He was born in Hiroshima; imagine the devastation that he must have seen around him while growing up. However, he did not let that colour his view of the world and wanted to be a part of something which is creative and beautiful he wanted to create. The signature pleated aesthetic in my body of work is hugely inspired by Miyake's explorations of pleats, and how that lends itself to inclusive and gender-fluid clothing.

— URVASHI KAUR



I use Miyake's perfume range and love all of them. He was very popular for his avant garde cuts which are trendy and classy. Some of the black and white silhouettes he created are phenomenal and timeless. I like his dhoti pants, especially the tie-dye ones, which are so similar to Indian wear.

— RAMESH DEMBLA

Issey Miyake has inspired me, and is one of the few icons who dared and succeeded in creating a totally new language that has been a source of inspiration for many. Miyake's commitment to his language despite being out of the chorus is something that has helped me keep focus on my [design] language, without giving up and doing something more commercial. It is a huge loss because his path and research were so full of depth and creativity, and his maturity was an example for everyone. — VAISHALI SHADANGULE

Issey Miyake was brilliant. The fashion industry has been relatively slow in innovation and technological advancement. In contrast to that, Miyake was technically advanced, making him different from the rest. If you look at his work, he mastered the pleating technique by fixing pleats in a mechanical way. Also, his cuts... he understood the body anatomy better than any other designer I know of.

— SOHAM DAVE

With inputs from Simi Kuriakose

A true inspiration to everyone in the field of fashion, Issey Miyake, the fashion Moghul, drew a lot of attention in the fashion world throughout his life. It is obvious that his contributions had a role to play in my journey as a fashion designer as well. The fashion ecosystem created by the legend will always propel the industry forward. We, in this field, owe him a lot for drawing eyes and attention to the world of fashion. One of the pioneers to introduce neo-noir designs in the industry, he used a lot of innovative effects like 3-D designs and colourful silhouettes.

NOTED English theatre and film director Peter Brook once said, "Drama is exposure; it is confrontation; it is contradiction and it leads to analysis, construction, recognition, and eventually to an awakening of understanding." Bengaluru-based Vedike Naatakashaale, which is offering a two-year diploma in theatre arts, is all set to celebrate the first graduation day on Saturday. The school offers full-time evening classes for free for two years, and 18 students are all set to receive their certificates.

Students will also get to perform, each year, a one-act play festival dedicated to a specific playwright. They will perform, direct and work on the backstage processes.

The rehearsal of Namkampni in progress

As part of Vedike, Vedike Naatakashaale began its journey in 2020. Speaking to CE, Rithwik Simha, son of CR Simha, creative director at Vedike Foundation, said, "We do not offer short-term courses. To be well versed in theatre, it requires time". Simha, who manages the theatre school with his wife Jasleen Rithwik Simha, said the age group of students varies from 18-60. "Our only criteria is their time and dedication," he added.

Nandakishore Sathyanarayn, one of the faculty members who also teaches history of theatre, said they impart the history of Kannada theatre over the past 120 years, besides, "also teaching the evolution of Kannada theatre from the '60s, '70s to '80s till recently". "We will teach them the impact of these plays on society," he said.

The first batch of the school graduates will be conferred with a diploma in Theatre Arts, and on that occasion, they will also perform the graduation production Namkampni by TP Kailasam.

The play will be performed at Prabhat KH Kalasoudha, Hanumanthanagar on Saturday and Sunday at 7 pm. Tickets are available at the venue.

HOLA!
I'm in such a great state of mind that I actually contemplated addressing you guys as 'dearly beloved'! This week was full of love, miracles and the utter joy of being surrounded by family and friends. I have often travelled to this city that I love, on work, for pleasure or just to connect and do a bit of 'tafri' (local slang for aimless wandering).

Without exaggeration, Mumbai has always given me a great sense of security, has enveloped me with the respect of my peers and has widened my horizons both culturally and intellectually. I took my greatest 'leap of faith' here, by becoming a performing artiste, shunning my staid profession of practising law, with my friends cheering me on.

I remember having my children in quick succession. Imi and I moved into our own (considerably) smaller home in a building teeming with young adults and young kids. There I met my 'earth-parents', the renowned author and filmmaker Saeed Mirza and his exuberant better-half, Jennifer. This amazing couple taught a restless young professional, who hated her job to be in sync with life. I learned that if I loved what I did...then sustenance would follow. I used to see Saeed whistle as he walked to his office teeming with writers, intellectuals, film and script writers and actors and I wanted in! In fact, that is where I first met Mr Shahrukh Khan earnestly pouring over a script that had him in the lead role as a newbie. Many years later when I worked for his production-house I reminded him of all the lights he had broken in our compound playing cricket with the children!

My husband and I are both by-products of comfortable homes. We were Pali-Hill brats and quite unabashed about it. Our friends were current heart-throbs on the silver screen and having them as your classmates was a common occurrence. I am happy and proud that the both of us broke away from a predictable road and pursued alternative and fulfilling careers in the city of my birth...Bangalore.

My life abounds with the presence of Cancerians and Leos in my life. They form the bulk of my family and 'friends like family'. Now another one has been added to our midst. The most important and youngest member of our family. She arrived sandwiched between two important birthdays but managed to be born on my dearest friend Simran Chandok's special day! As I anxiously waited for news, in the very same hospital that my daughter was born, I must admit I felt overwhelmed. When I met with the doctor (the son of my gynaecologist who delivered my daughter), both our eyes glistened as there are some things best left in the unsaid. Like his father before him, he continued the tradition of giving me 'the greatest gift of all'!

My son celebrated his birthday in between all the excitement of having a new 'little-person' in our lives. We went to the ultimate in Italian cuisine, Romano's at the JW Marriott, Sahar. Both the 'dishy' chefs, executive chef Dane Fernandes and chef Emiliano Di Stef, another Italian chef-de-cuisine met with us and personally curated a lunch from their new menu. To say that the meal was stupendous would be an understatement. The service and the meal and the attention to detail was 'favoloso'. The GM Kunal Chauhan was a Bengaluru-boy after all...

We were born to be real, not perfect.

MIXOLOGY

COCKTAIL is the synonym of mixing things up. Fruits, in their most natural form, have been the favourite of any bartender across the world. But, when we talk about fruits, fruit juice has never been second to none on the list.

In the recent race to create the best, trendy and snazzy cocktail, fruit juice has gone under the knife for aesthetic and textural reasons. One boon of such experimentation has landed cocktail pundits with clarified juice. It is very easy to clarify fruit juice and the outcome is staggering. It enhances the taste of the fruit lending its flavour to the juice and also helps great deal with the texture.

Bringing you one step closer to clarification lends an abundance of opportunity for creativity to flow in terms of cocktails. To make your very own clarified juice, you just take one litre of fresh juice, to which we add three gm of agar agar. This mixture is then refrigerated for 1 hour and then strained through a coffee filter. This process yields a crystal clear liquid but with the flavour intact. This draws the power of your cocktail to be clear as well, if mixed with the correct ingredients. Or it may look like just an ordinary glass of water, if you wish it so.

The clarity in terms of colour is accompanied by the most noticeable change, the texture. Cocktails made with clarified juice not only play with your eyes but also throws a pitch to your taste buds. Have a little clarity to your glass at your next party with this amazing cocktail.

FRIENDSHIP BACK WITH A BANG

A SHARADHAA

GAALIPATA 2

Cast: Ganesh, Diganthh, Pawan Kumar, Sharmiela Mandre, Vaibhavi Shandilya, and Samyuktha Menon

Director: Yogaraj Bhat

IN 2008, Gaalipata celebrated friendship. It came as a breath of fresh air. The story had a certain simple charm to it, which connected with the audience. So, when Gaalipata 2 was announced, it kindled the excitement of everyone.

Staying true to his signature style, Yogaraj Bhat has once again woven a simple yet beautiful story around human relationships. Although a decade has passed since the original's release and Sandalwood has explored new genres, the impact of the film naturally created an eagerness among the audience to look forward to the sequel.

The director tells us a new story that revolves around three friends, Gani (Ganesh), Bhatru (Diganth) and Bhushan (Pawan Kumar). They enroll themselves in college to pursue MA in Kannada. The first half an hour shows us their breezy love stories told with a couple of songs.

Gani falls in love with Shwetha (Vaibhavi Shandilya) while Diganth bumps into his ex-girlfriend Anupama (Samyuktha Menon) who joins the same college. Bhushan develops an infatuation with Sharmiela (Sharmiela Mandre), his lecturer. The three friends live with their Kannada professor (Anant Nag) who eventually becomes a major turning point in their lives. The entire second half is set abroad. The bond shared by the three friends and their professor unveils and we are also introduced to a kite that acts as a messenger in their life.

Yogaraj Bhat's making and the emotionally rich story make the film a highly believable and relatable one. The dialogues penned by him are well balanced with plenty of laughs and teary moments. Of course, the film has its own ups and downs. Though the screenplay needed to be tighter, the last 20 minutes elevate the film to a higher level.

RATING 3.5/5

Ganesh has literally lived the role and added his unique aura to it. His aces in his portrayal of the happy-go-lucky guy who also has a contrasting emotional side. Diganth's character undergoes an interesting changeover in the second half. Pawan Kumar and Sharmiela Mandre are the new entries to Gaalipata franchise and the pair execute the love segment with perfect balance. Anant Nag has an interesting role to play in the Bhatru's film, and he is the one who takes forward the story. Known to pull off roles with elan, he is indeed a strength for the film. Rangyana Raghu and Sudha Belawadi roles add value to the story. Vaibhavi Shandilya and Samyuktha Menon have justified their respective characters while Nishvika, even in a cameo, has a key role to play.

The frames of Gaalipata 2 are filled with nature, and DOP Santhosh Rai Pathaje has captured the mood of the film with apt colour schemes.

Arjun Janya adds value to the film with his music. Neenu Bageheriyada..., which is used as a recurring song, blends well with the script. Prayashaha on the other hand is a deeply meaningful song with a great melody. But I really wish the editor was more invested in his work.

A film, which has friendship at its core, always makes for a delightful watch, and who better than Yogaraj Bhat can crack it? Just join the Gaalipata gang, and you are in for a ride!

H VASU TO DIRECT DHANYA RAMKUMAR IN BELLI KALUNGURA

Produced by Sa Ra Govindu, the film introduces newcomer Samarth

CE FEATURES

AFTER her debut in Ninna Sanihake, Dhanya Ramkumar has been bagging some interesting projects. Dhanya, who will be playing the female lead in Anup Revanna-starrer Hide & Seek, is set to collaborate with veteran director H Vasu for a family entertainer.

Titled Belli Kalungura., the title of the film is derived from the 1992 family drama starring Sunil and Malashree. However, Vasu says that except for the title, the film has no connection with the previous film, and has come up with a family entertainer that is still relevant for today.

Dhanya is paired opposite newcomer Samarath, a budding artist from Bengaluru who did his acting training in Mumbai.

An official announcement of the project produced by Sa Ra Govindu was made on Friday, and the team is set to begin shooting in October.

DHANU HARSHA

ROPED IN FOR DIGANTH'S EDAGAIYE APAGHATAKKE KARANA

CE FEATURES

DHANU Harsha is the newest talent in Sandalwood, and she is set to play the female lead in Samarth B Kadkol's directorial, Edagaiye Apaghatakke Karana. A film that revolves around the problems of southpaws has Dhanu paired opposite Diganth.

An official announcement of Dhanu, a runner-up of Fresh Face season 13, coming on board was announced on International Lefthanders day. Dhanu, who has previously worked in English films, a Tamil independent film Irandha Kaalam, and a Kannada film Ariha, is excited to bag her first solo lead.

"The title, (Edagaiye Apaghatakke Karana) translates as 'Left hand is the reason for the problem to happen'.is a concept based on 'Left handers'. I play the role of Radhika, who is a left hander, in her mid 20s, who goes through an unfortunate turn of events. The role is challenging, and it is something I haven't done before. It will be a different process for me to get into this character," says the actor, who will begin shooting for the film this month.

Dhanu, who is still pursuing her education, says she has started loving this profession. "At present, this medium has become my passion, and it will be amazing if I can do it full time,"

Edagaiya Apaghatakke Karana is jointly produced by Gurudatha Ganiga and Samarth Kadkol, and has cinematography by Abhimanyu Sadanand.

The triumph of the simpleton

KARTIK BHARDWAJ

LAAL SINGH CHADDHA

Cast: Aamir Khan, Kareena Kapoor Khan, Mona Singh, Naga Chaitanya, Manav Vij

Director: Advait Chandan

Written by: Atul Kulkarni

AAMIR Khan is a man of emotion. In his interviews, just before the release of Laal Singh Chaddha, he revealed how he enjoys a film. "I laugh with it, I cry with it; I call out to a character and ask him to tell the girl how he feels." If not the same intensity of interactivity, with his latest release, Aamir manages to plaster a smile even on the face of the most cynical. For the unsuspecting audience, Laal Singh Chaddha proves to be an evocative ride. Chuckles are followed by gleefulness which transitions into rending of the heart, all in gradual succession. The film covers all the checkpoints of a Hindi mass entertainer while keeping its integrity intact. It's quite an achievement for cinema these days.

Laal Singh Chaddha is both a remake and an adaptation of Forrest Gump (1994). Director Advait Chandan masterfully takes bits from the original and pastes them shot by shot. The result isn't a cheap copy but a fit that retains its original essence. Sample this epochal scene: Laal breaks out of his calipers and into a run while being chased by bullies. The beats are on point, elation rises with every step he takes and even the most ardent Gump fans can't help but cheer. Dialogue, even after being mere Hindi translations (Bhaag, Laal, Bhaag), doesn't sound or feel out of place. But where the film really performs is in its repackaging for the Indian viewers. The floating feather finds Laal on a train, which is the perfect spot for over-enthusiastic storytellers looking for an audience. He begins telling his tale to an initially disinterested passenger but as the train gathers speed more listeners join in, only to realise that the story of this stupefied-looking Sardar crosses paths with the country's history. If Forrest Gump had the Kennedy assassination, the Watergate Scandal and The Vietnam War, we have Operation Blue Star, Indira Gandhi's killing and the battle of Kargil. In a tongue-in-cheek scene, Laal is standing in a crowd with his love-interest Rupa (Kareena Kapoor Khan), observing the Ram Rath Yatra of the 1990s. Rupa explains to Laal, "His name is also Laal, like you, Lal Krishna Advani." Only one of them, however, knew what they were running for.

And yet, Aamir Khan is not the greatest thing in an Aamir Khan film. When it comes to expressions, his Laal is essentially Rancho from 3 Idiots (2009) sans his high IQ. He voices a ringing hum after every dialogue and I could only think of PK, if he took language lessons from a Punjabi sex worker. The saviour is Mona Singh as Laal's mother. She spills an endearing and comical worry, typical to mothers, whenever she appears on screen. In a sequence, she explains to Laal not to venture out during a riot because "the country is infested with malaria". This running gag finally hits home when Laal answers why he never prays, "My mother said, 'Mazhab se Malaria failta hain' (Religion leads to the spread of Malaria)"

Atul Kulkarni's screenplay also takes innovative spins on the source material. Although it omits the complexities of political contexts, it tickles our sense of nostalgia. Laal, dancing a particular way due to his disabled legs, teaches a certain superstar his signature arms-wide step. He unknowingly renames his brief and vest brand Rupa, thinking only about his unrequited love. The character of Lieutenant Dan from the original Forrest Gump becomes Mohammad, a Pakistani terrorist, ably played by Manav Vij. After being saved by Laal at Kargil, Mohammad undergoes a change of heart and realises the futility of religious extremism. Another performance that stands out is Kareena's Rupa. On paper, her character might lack the layering Robin Wright's Jenny had, but she attempts to elevate the role. This is evident in a scene where Rupa beats her maid's husband because he was hitting her wife and then breaks into a sob, remembering her father's domestic abuse.

There are certain points where the film falters. Laal, unlike Forrest, is a mere bystander and not a catalyst to various political events. While the original serves as a satirical take on America's culture through the eyes of a simpleton, Laal Singh marches past riots, rath yatras and rallies without even a casual glance. Unlike the western superpower, a lot is at stake while exercising freedom of speech in the country. The stage is set before the film begins. 'Special Thanks to' credits appear softly on the black screen. The first one lingers on 'The Government of India'.

CE FEATURES

BANNIRI BENGALURIGELLA, the first song from Made in Bengaluru, is a tribute to the rich Kannada theatre tradition of Rangageethe.

Director Pradeep K Sastry shared that the reception to the song launched on Tuesday by the legendary director SK Bhagwan and Sudheendra Venkatesh was phenomenal. Composed by Ashwin P Kumar, the eleven-language song or what we call Ekadasha Bhaasha Geete, and the music has been mixed and mastered by reputed technicians across south India. "This is the opening satirical ballad of the film where we see various characters played by the singers and instrumentalists, who are on their way to Bangalore singing this age-old tune. The peppy number is a good hit with children and the oldies alike as the comments on the video reflects this response," he adds.
